MEMORY TRAILS 1979

MATTHEW CRUZ

Dear Matt,
you are a fantastic teacher!
A real inspiration. Someday
I also plan to teach. I hope that I will relate to kids as well as you do.
Christ is reflected in all that you do. I really appreciated your attitude towards christianity and your smile always brightened my day. God bless in every thing and if not sooner
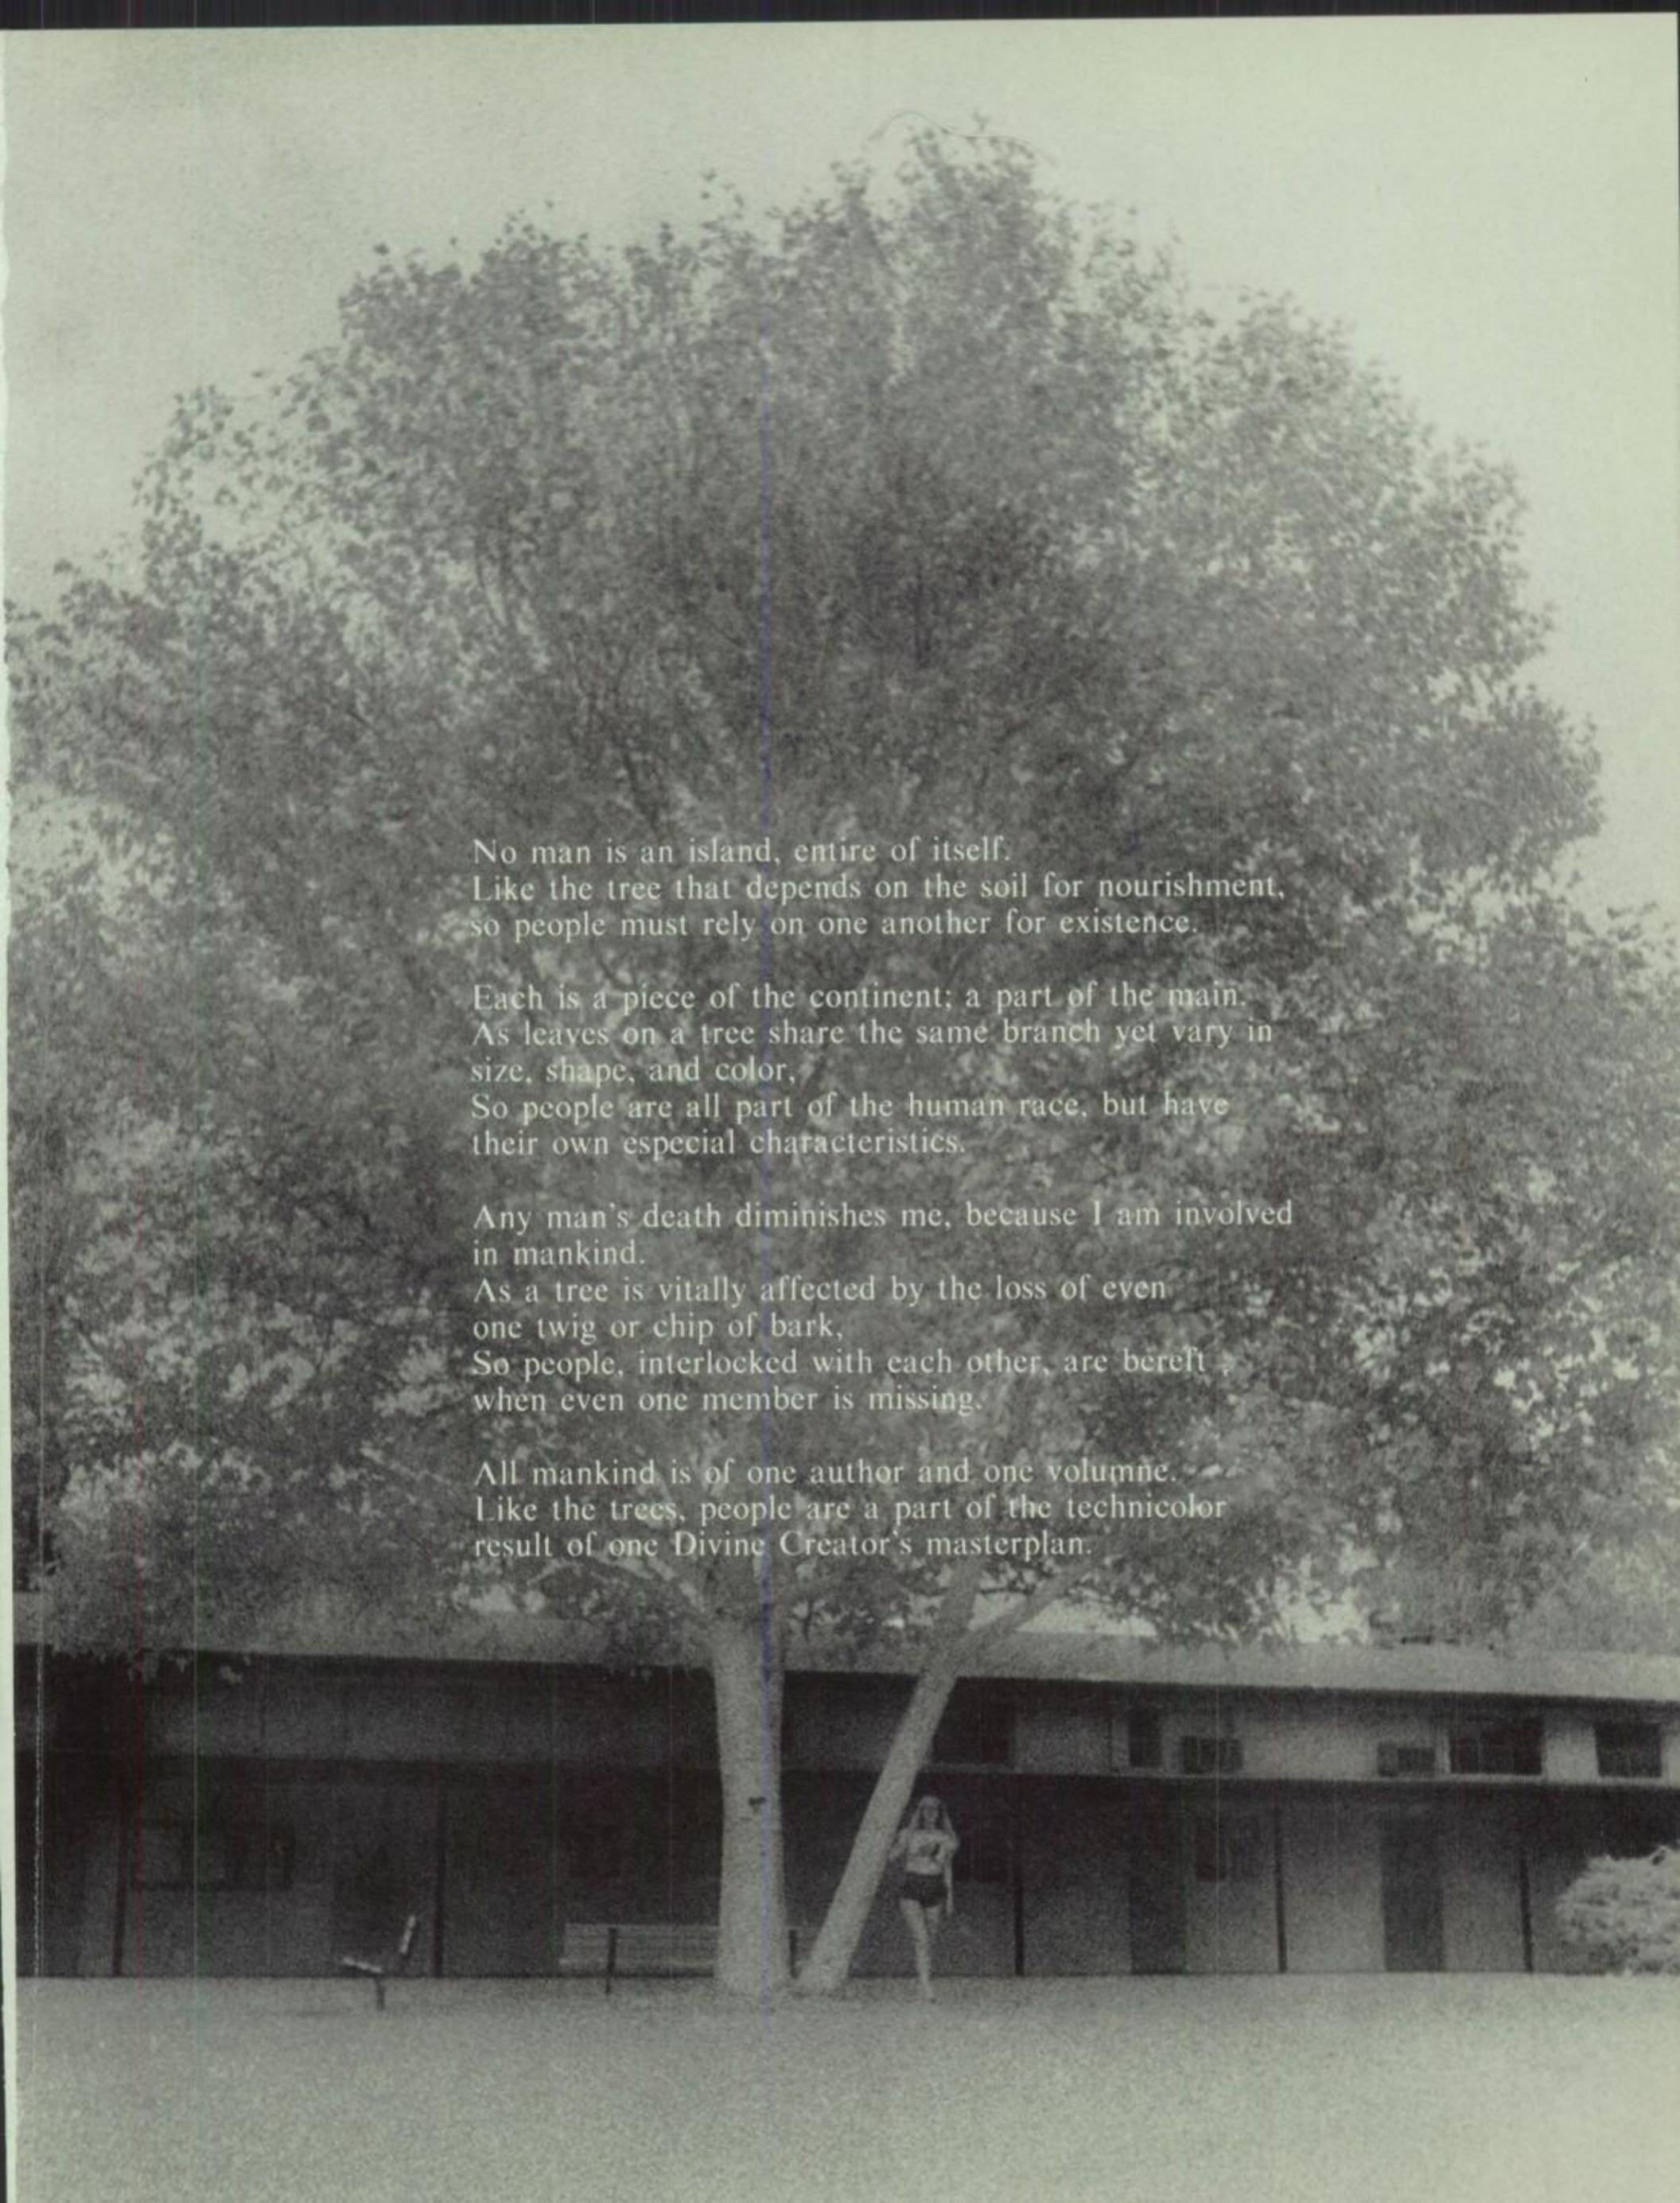
I'll meet you in Heaven
your friend and pupil
Sadee
Mary

Have a wonderful summer



No man is an island, entire of itself.
Like the tree that depends on the soil for nourishment, so people must rely on one another for existence.

Each is a piece of the continent; a part of the main.
As leaves on a tree share the same branch yet vary in size, shape, and color,
So people are all part of the human race, but have their own especial characteristics.

Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind.
As a tree is vitally affected by the loss of even one twig or chip of bark,
So people, interlocked with each other, are bereft when even one member is missing.

All mankind is of one author and one volumne.
Like the trees, people are a part of the technicolor result of one Divine Creator's masterplan.

You have given us more than we could ever realize or appreciate.

As a teacher, your concern for our learning is evidenced in your creative approach to education. You have been a firm supporter of our school activities and have made yourself known to us as a good friend as well as a teacher.

You have shown us that laughter helps us maintain a balanced perspective on life. You have spent hours off campus helping us develop a love of nature. You have tried to instill in us a desire for V-8 juice because of your belief in its ability to enable us to reach the top faster.

Your relationship with Christ has taught us that God can be a friend and finally you have taught us that "there is no gray area."

We the Yearbook Staff, in appreciation, dedicate this annual to you,
BWANA BILL MILLARD

Dear Students,

The staff decided that rather than waste this space letting the editor express his vague and insignificant thoughts, we would make an evaluation of the year.

We feel credit should be given where credit is due, so please don't give any to Carl.

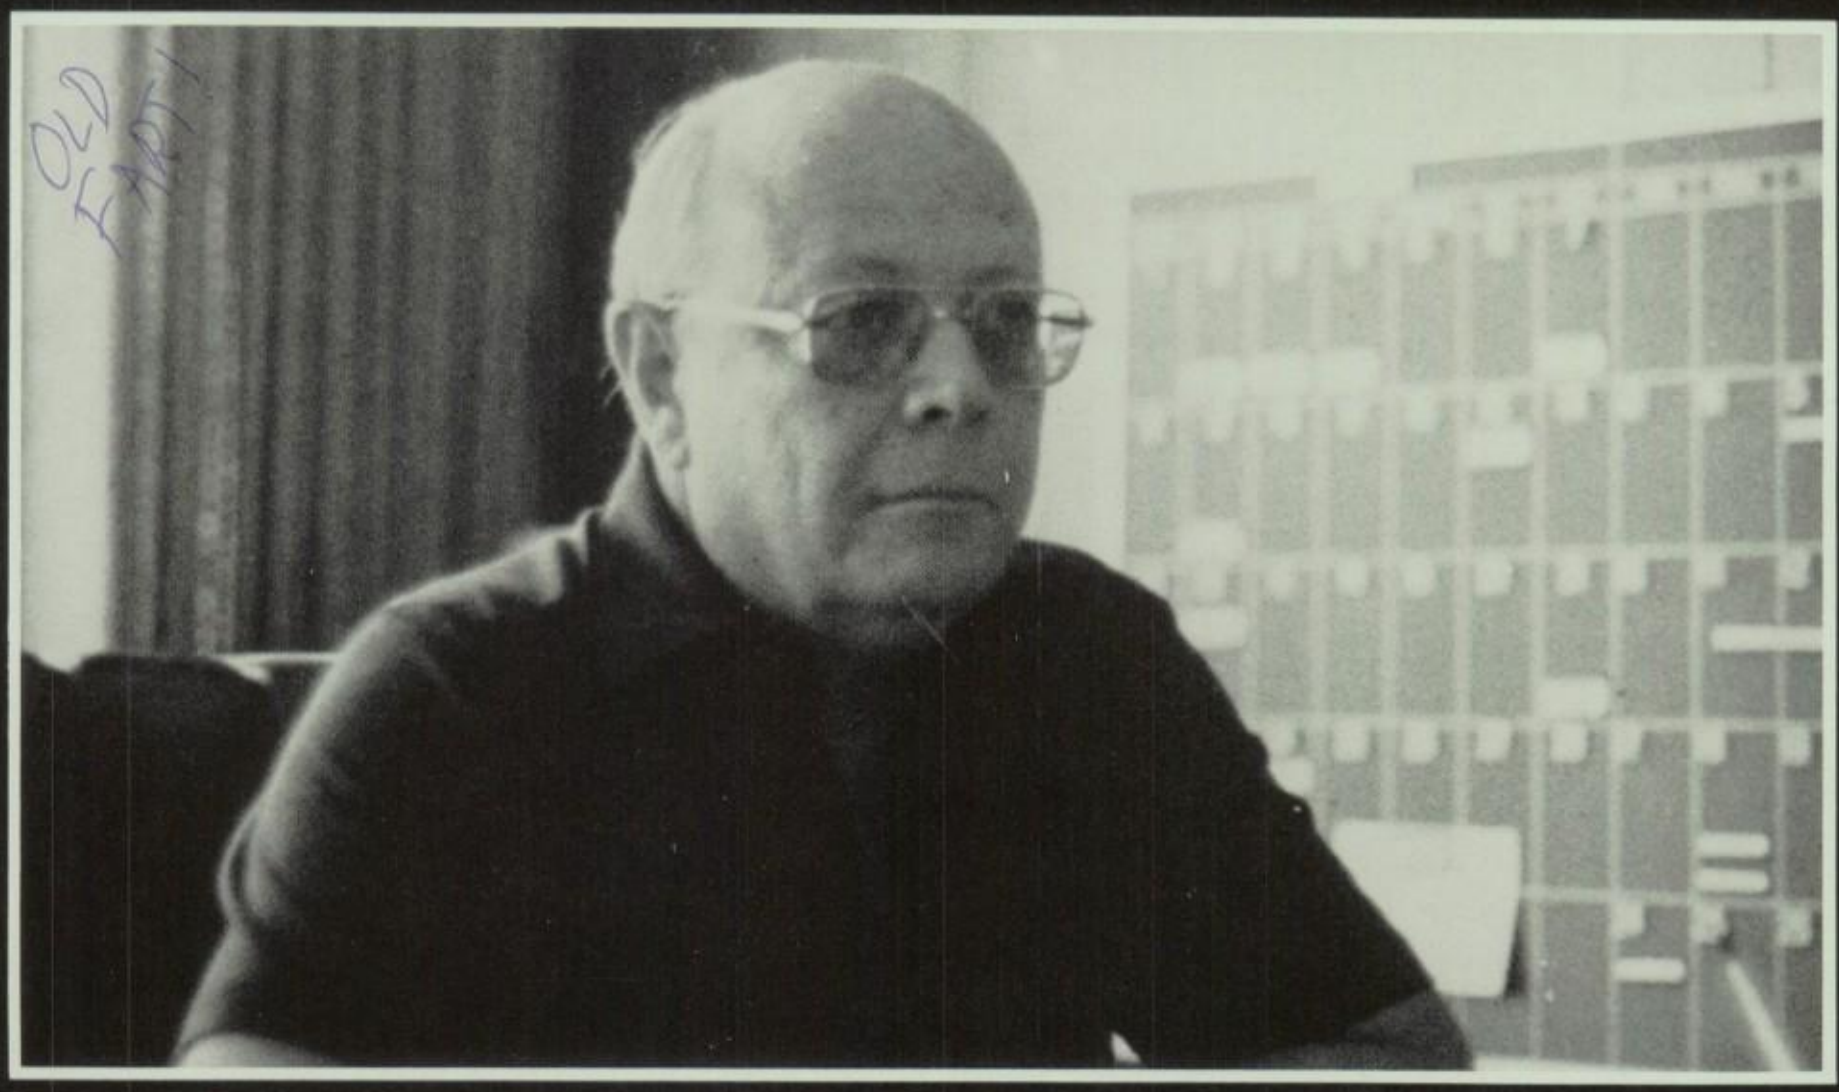
The staff and sponsors have been united in everything including our opposition of the editor's ridiculous ideas, the few that he had.

We feel that despite many adversities, mainly the editor, we were able to produce a reasonably excellent yearbook.

We hope you like the annual. If you don't that's too bad because we do, and considering who the editor was it's remarkable things came out as well as they did.

We would appreciate any expression of sympathy to the staff who had to work under Carl's boorish rule.

Sincerely,
Your Yearbook Staff.



PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Student bodies, like the people who comprise them, seem often to have unique, corporate personalities and characteristics. This is certainly true of the student bodies we have had here at LSA in recent years. This year, again, I am impressed by the quality of leadership evident in the student association and in the class organizations. Positive attitudes and a spirit of cooperation are the rule rather than the exception. And throughout the student body in general the predominant characteristic is one of helpfulness and working together to get the total job done. True, there are differences of opinion, as would be not only expected, but hoped for, but these seem always to be resolved in a rational manner.

This being the case, it has been no surprise this year, to see how much is being attempted and accomplished by this student body. When this year ends, I am sure that the students of LSA will have compiled a record of accomplishment in which we can all take justifiable pride. We shall have a year, I feel certain, that we can look back upon as a year of growth and achievement. For this I commend you, and wish you well as you continue to take up the daily challenges which confront you.

Sincerely yours,

Grant Macaulay, Principal

THE CLASS OF 1979

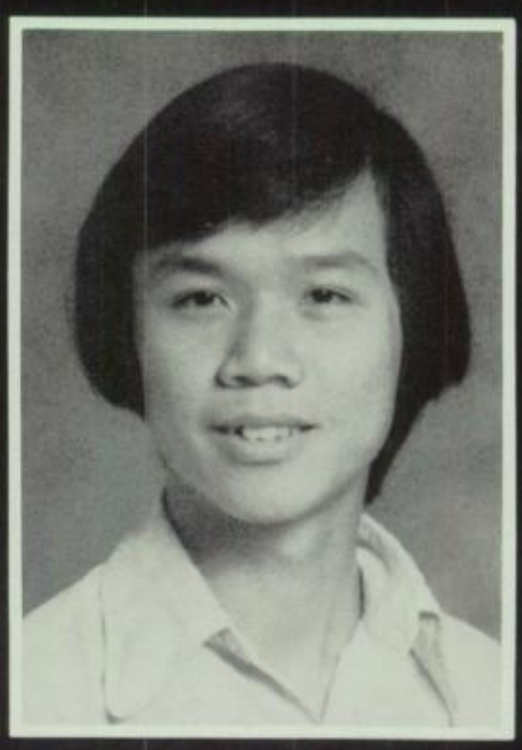
HAS ASKED THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS

TRY TO FIND THE ANSWERS FOR EACH SENIOR

Nicknames? Favorite song? Birthday? Favorite soft drink? Favorite kind of car? Someplace you would like to visit? Ambition in life? Hobbies? Favorite Sport? Favorite Pro or College sports team? Favorite restaurant? Favorite kind of food? Favorite TV show or movie? Height? Favorite flavor of lifesavers? Favorite flavor of ice cream?

Ainu drinks Pepsi while playing soccer with the Detroit Tigers because she believes it will help her become a good doctor. When she moves to rural France, Ainu plans to be the only 4'11" Indian driving a Porsche while watching Gone with the Wind, listening to When I was Young, and eating Indian food and chocolate chip ice cream.

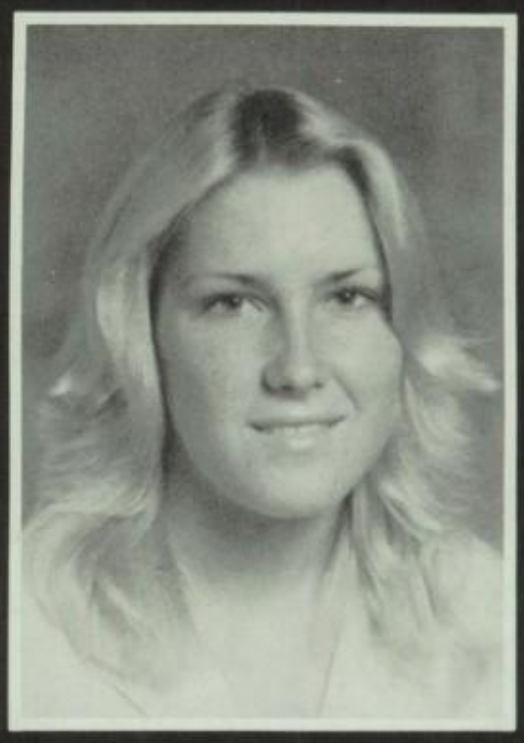
Albert Li plans to enter medicine in hopes of being team doctor to help out at those violent clashes between the Dodgers and the Lakers. He plans to spend his leisure time driving his Mercedes 450 SL to basketball games at the Bamboo House in Hong Kong while he eats Neapolitan ice cream and drinks root beer.



Andrea likes to read Ellery Queen mysteries because of the valuable insights it gives for engineering or interpretation enthusiasts. You Don't Have to be a Star to drive her Maseratti, just a Panamanian Pittsburgh Steeler who is an expert at playing volleyball at La Senora where silver gray coconut lifesavers are sold.

Betty Yvonne Edwards won't be driving her Mercedes 450 SL on any rocky roads, only the yellow brick roads. She's Three Times a Lady when it comes to sports, sewing, and singing. After becoming a physical therapist, she will teach the USC Trojans how to play volleyball and teach Mork and Mindy how to relax in the Bahamas.

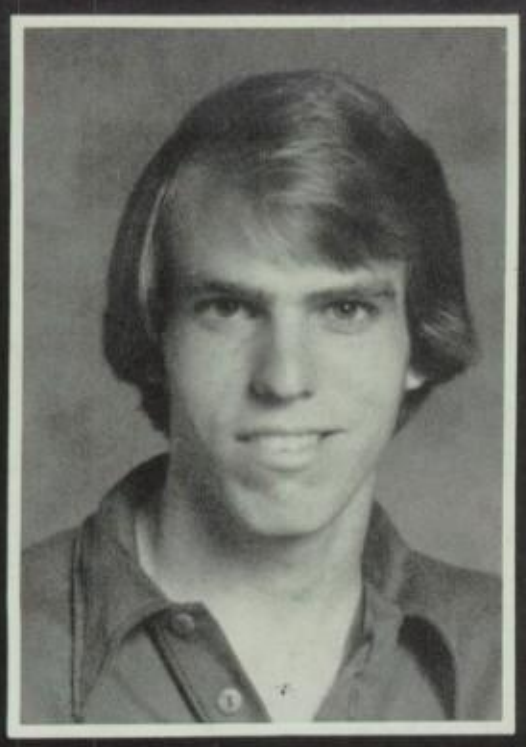
William Bruce Lee II drinks Mountain Dew so he can Hold the Line while he water skis, rides motorcycles, surfs, and girl watches. Bill will soon be driving his Pantera to brown and blue Miami Dolphin games in the Virgin Islands where wealthy 5'7" dentists eat lasagna and cherry lifesavers at the Ruben E. Lee.



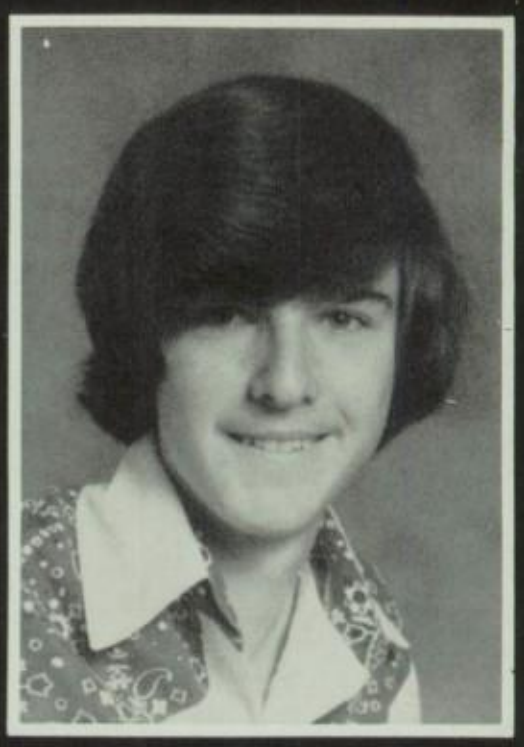
Bonnie Rassmussen has decided to Get Smart and lay off the food from Naugles and start eating good stuff like wedding cake, butter rum lifesavers, and coffee ice cream. She plays tennis with her yellow Porsche Carrera and as a housewife will devote her time to her favorite hobby, Kevin.

Brenda Torres claims she is Only Friends with Starsky and Hutch, but she would like to Welcome Back Kotter. Someday she wants to take the Chattanoga Chu-Chu to Switzerland where she will collect more chains and stock up on jamoca ice cream in hopes that she will have the opportunity to become a successful secretary.

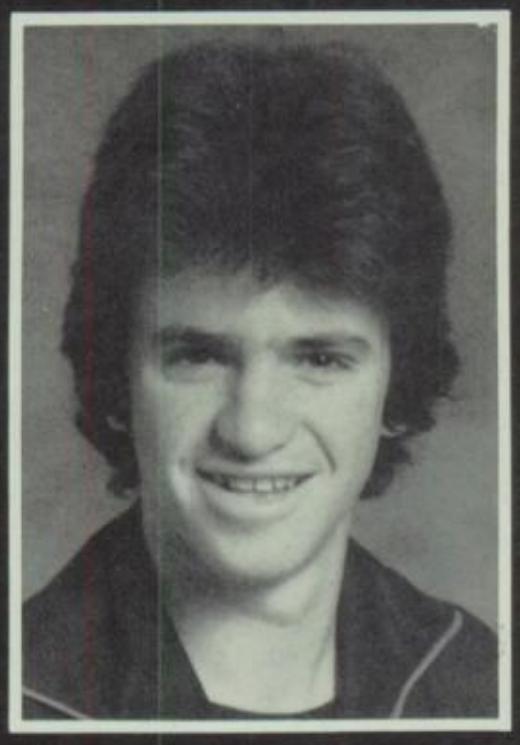
Even in the quietest Moments Brent Rouhe, born August 6, 1961, tries to make his Saturday Night Live by eating something yellow, ice cream or lifesavers that is. He enjoys skiing with Doctor Pepper, his favorite dentist. Brent likes to surf and skateboard in Switzerland where he drives his yellow Ferrari to get steak at Benihanas.



You Put Me on Top of the World says Calvin Allen Uren of the Los Angeles Dodgers when they play soccer with the French bankers. He doesn't mind Just A Little Inconvenience while sailing to Switzerland in his Mercedes 1937 Sports Coupe. Lemonlime sodas don't make Calvin blue, especially when he drinks them at the Blair Mansion Inn.

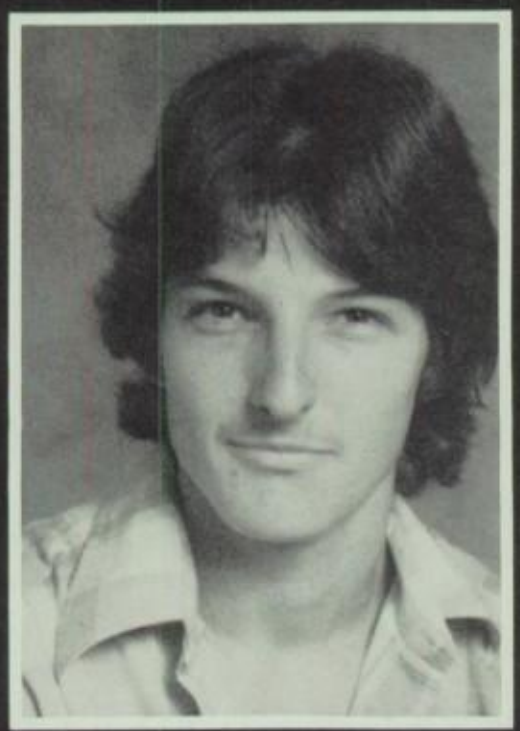


Carl Edward Blomquist believes his rigid diet of junk food from Phil's Old English Pub, lime lifesavers, and raspberry sherbert has helped him grow to be 6'. He will study computer designing in Sweden while he tries to M★A★S★H★ the Seattle Sea Hawks in a game of soccer. He also hopes to take his BMW and his backpack to get some A&W rootbeer.



Carlos Alfredo Williams would like to Stay with the Michigan State football team down in Ecuador so he can spend some time snow skiing. Someday when Sambo goes to drive a fast car he will hop into his emerald green Mazda RX7 and head for Coco's and a great Mexican meal with vanilla ice cream for dessert.

Cheri Lynn Christenson was brought into the world on April 18, 1960 by Dr. Pepper, a Mexican Poet. Mork and Mindy will travel to France with Cheri in her search for a para-legal plant. If not for you, the Minnesota Vikings, Cheri could not have afforded her Porsche or her numerous trips to Taco Bell for butterbrickle ice cream.



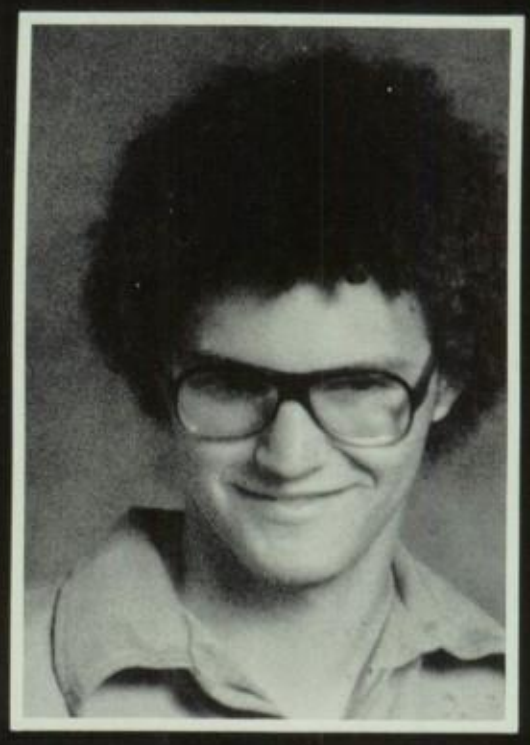
To Charles Thomas Finney, being a Freebird is driving his wine red Porsche 911s all over England looking for a rock group that will take him on as a lead guitarist, because he likes being in the limelight. Born September 9, 1961, Chip likes Mexican soccer and going to parties at Ernie Jrs with Don Kirsner's rock concerts.

Christie Marie Blake has Feelings for Hospital because she wants to become a nurse in the Swiss Alps. Born on August 8, 1961, Christie is a cherrylemon drinker and plays soccer and hockey with her Italian '67 VW bug. She often finds waterskiing, snow skiing and putting around on her motorcycle too embarrassing.

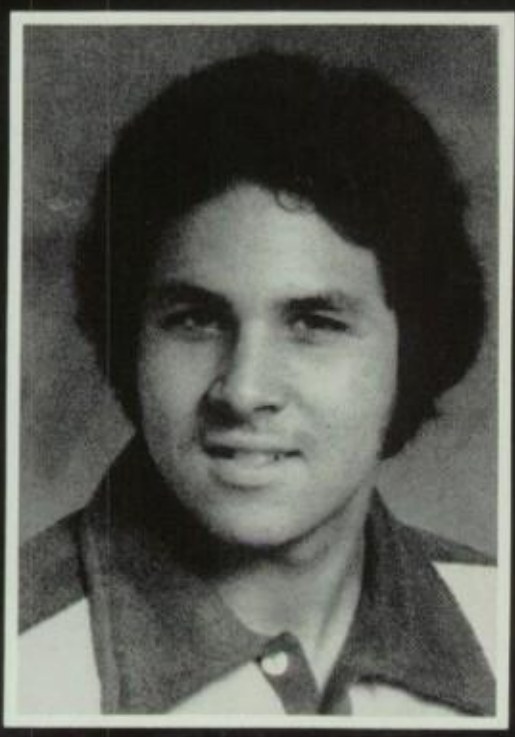
Cynthia Annette Marti wants to own a yellow Mercedes 450 SL when she becomes a physical therapist in Puerto Rico. She would like to go with Mork and Mindy to Marie Callenders to eat Mexican food. Playing volleyball and Raquetball helps keep Cindy in good sewing condition. It also gives her a better appetite for marble fudge ice cream.

Clarissa Saunders enjoys creative thinking and plans to drive her Audi on calls when she becomes an emergency medical technician. She always says, What Good Is A Song when you can watch Paper Chase or the Oklahoma Sooners playing badminton while you eat Spanish food, chocolate ice cream, and cherry or butterscotch lifesavers.

"If," Curtis Edward Robertson says, "I could spend all my time with girls, girls, girls, everything would be cherry." He follows the rocky road of the Rams in hopes that he can smooth some of the bumps toward becoming a lawyer. He gets rid of the blues when he drives his Pantera to get Mexican food in Switzerland.



Daniel Robert Gonzalez, born January 22, 1960, never quite realizes what a Wild, Wild, West it is until he sees the Los Angeles Lakers with King Tut, Dr. Pepper, and Stanley Steamer on the court. As an engineering designer, the Gonz plans to customize the electronics of the Granada where he enjoys skiing.

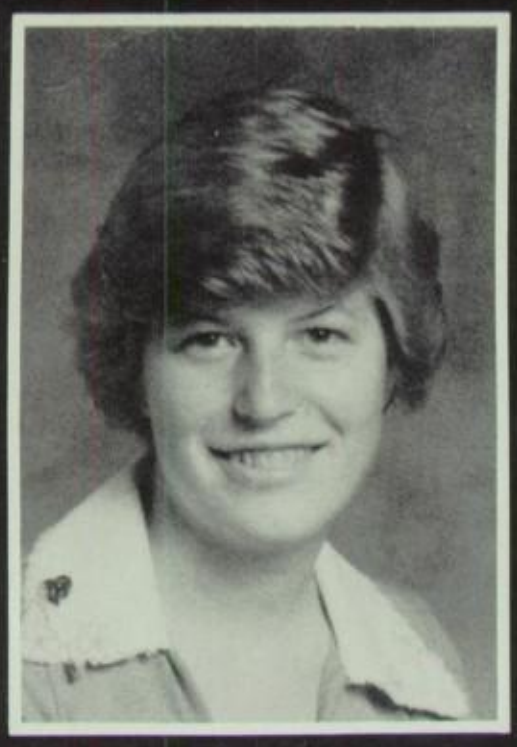


David de la Vega Love's Kashmir, his favorite player on the Dallas Cowboys. He enjoys weight lifting lowered smoked bugs. David goes banana over smoke gray x-ray technicians who ride off road. He likes to watch Monte Python playing football in Hawaii while he swims in coke to get Mexican food.

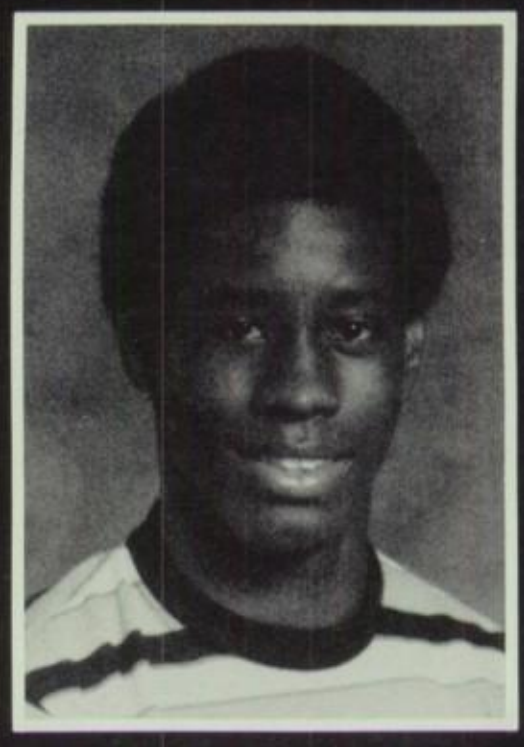
DeAnn Rena Steinhoefel's dream is to someday see Mork and Mindy playing for the Los Angeles Dodgers. The numerous water skiing and baseball injuries she has cured qualify her to be a fantastic nurse anywhere in Europe. She also plans to take Dr. Pepper driving in her Corvette to get mint chocolate chip ice cream at El Gato Gordo.

News to the World, Deborah Lynn Farley was born on August 24, 1960. At the Saddleback Inn, Debbie enjoys horseback riding with the UCLA Bruins. She hopes to become a M*A*S*H nurse somewhere in Ireland, and she will use butter rum to cure all ills. Those impossible cases she will stuff with coke and pack off in her MG.

"You needed Me," said Debbie Fowler of the Dallas Cowboys. In her spare time she likes to butter pecans and make wintergreen. DJ has to be with people when she plays badminton, volleyball, and baseball. She likes singing to her burgundy BMW while she drinks sprite and eats American food at Mexico City.



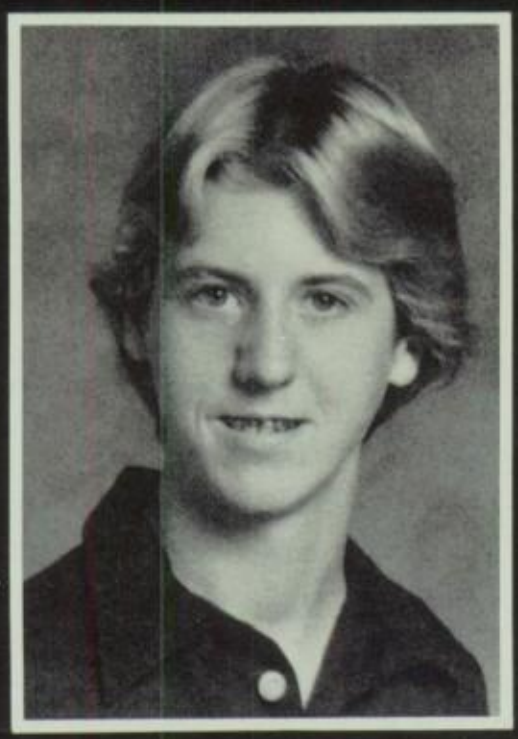
The Sound of Music always makes Debbie Ellen Shumaker think of Pizza and Pipes. Born March 23, 1961, Debbie loves playing badminton while she bakes, plays piano, and bowls. She also likes to see the Mets play Oriental baseball and to take Vernor's light blue Buick Skyhawk out to get wintergreen lifesavers and fudge ribbon ice cream.



Demetrius Stevenson says he would like to see the orange crush the royal blue and he'd like to see the Steelers come out swimming. Demet believes that girls and cars should go together so he lets them while he watches Love Boat and eats orange sherbert. He also likes driving his Japanese import, a Celica, to get Chinese food.

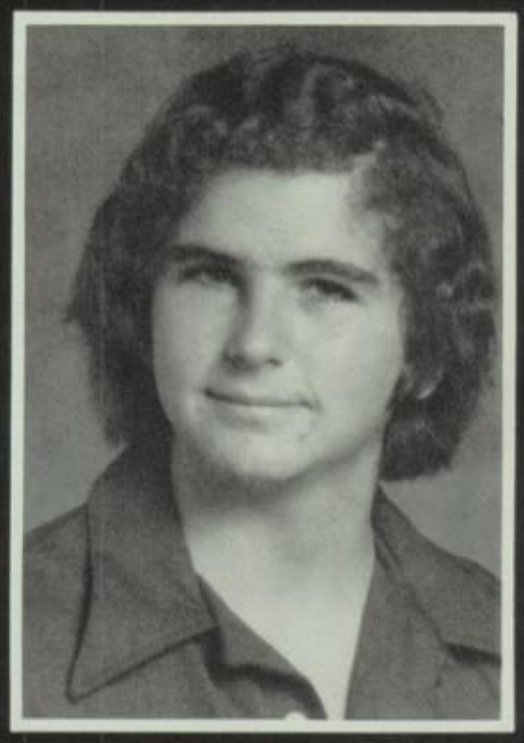
Dena 'Ande' Ruf, born December 23, 1961, wants to see the Nebraska Cornhuskers quarterback crunch the USC Trojans. Unfortunately this is part of her Fantasy Island. She likes spending her time with Bobby McGee so he can help her Hold the Line on hang gliding when she becomes a rich bum. She hopes to see a 5'3" orange crush her emerald Celica.

"Thank You for the Music," says Denita Faye Speyer of the Los Angeles Dodgers. You were the Turning Point in my life. She wants to be a doctor and make her Seville green with envy. She likes to Spy out Lord Charley's to see if he is doing anything peanut butter and chocolate. She likes water skiing with a 5'7" tangerine.

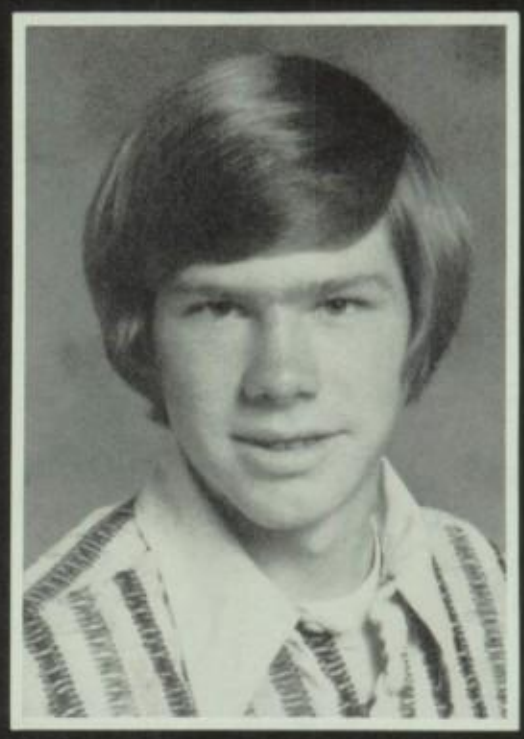


The Morning After Star Wars, Derek Michael Richards decided to become a child psychologist and teach the New York Yankees to play tennis. He will have to make a Mountain Dew for the subject of his next painting. As a famous Italian violinist, Derek plans to record at Twentieth Century Limited in Ireland.

Dianne Marie Lyle says, "Just You and Me" to her Mexican interior designer because she doesn't like the fizz. She enjoys suntanning at Love's Restaurant or dune buggying in Russia. She would like a 5'4" brown Volkswagen that can swim through oceans of pralines 'n cream to collect wild cherry stamps.



Douglas E. Grube, or none that I care to mention as he is sometimes called, wants to become a professional baseball player so he can get into a few of those Star Wars. As a Pinball Wizard, Doug will teach the UCLA Bruins about root-beer, women, and song. Doug also likes driving his golf cart, a blue Porsche, around Switzerland.

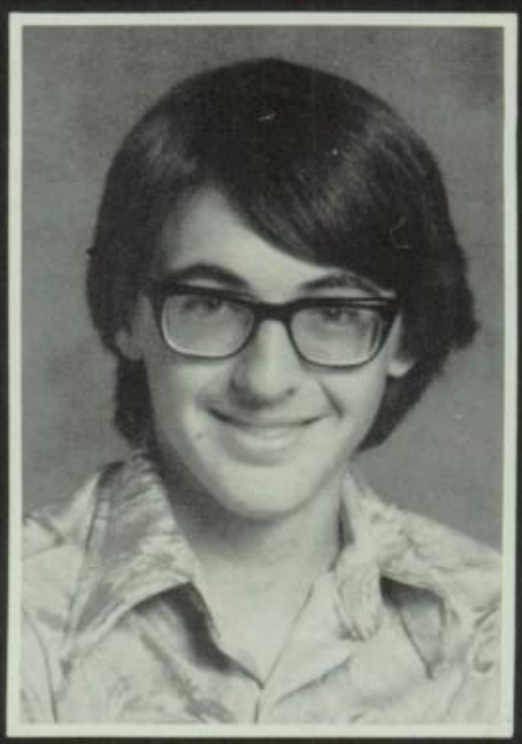


Duane Louis Anderson, born August 6, 1960, is destined to become an engineer so he can build a bridge to Switzerland. He then plans to drive a green Celica across so he can buy vanilla ice cream and spearmint lifesavers and watch the Los Angeles Dodgers play baseball at the Spagetti Factory while he eats Mexican food.

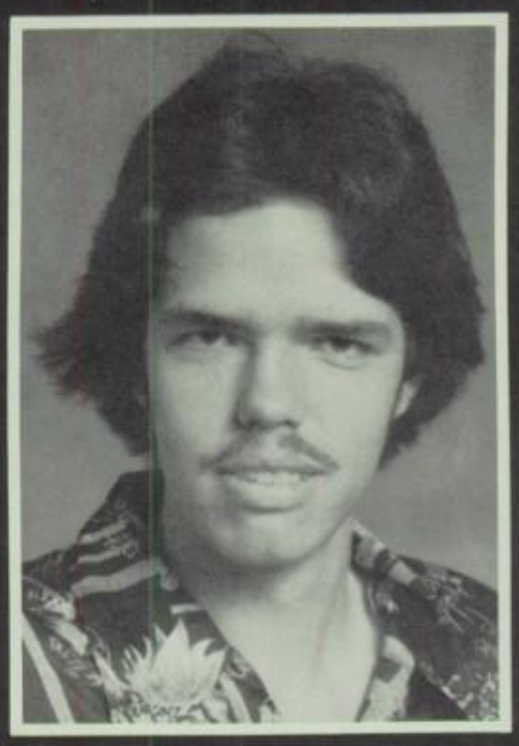
Edith Marca, born September 16, 1961, tells the Rams and Dodgers, "Don't Throw It All Away on something in the medical field." Too Much Heaven for Edith is water and snow skiing at El Taxco or the Red Onion. She hates Foul Play in volleyball, but enjoys a Saturday Night Live from her green Mercedes 450 SL in Switzerland.

Esther Luella Ackerman likes to be nurse for Dr. Pepper. She enjoys Foul Play with the Rams and doesn't feel real Harmony until she climbs into her Maseratti and goes out racing with Rolls Royces. She likes to embroider butter pecans to tangerines while she watches TV at the Casa de Pico in Hawaii.

Grace Margueritte Holden likes doing scantily clad song and dance acts in government for King Tut. As a counsleor, Gracie plans to advise, the Texas Aggies to watch Pooley's Bible movies to help them make their Saturday Night Live. In any car that runs, she plans to stuff herself with calories at the Granada.



According to Gregory Lynn Snider, the Battle of Kookamonga began when Hogan's Heroes challenged the Denver Broncos to a model ship building contest. Greg was elsewhere at the time, in an atomic submarine eating wild cherry lifesavers. As an electronics engineer he uses his breaktime to go and get Shasta orange and pizza in his Mach 1.



A Star is Born says Halee Craig Knoefler. It's Dr. Pepper, the newest addition to the Blue, playing pinball for the Los Angeles Dodgers. Have you never been mellow asks Halee? If not then try driving to Europe in his Porsche. Halee hopes many people will start eating at Taco Bell so they will turn blue and have to visit a doctor, hopefully him.

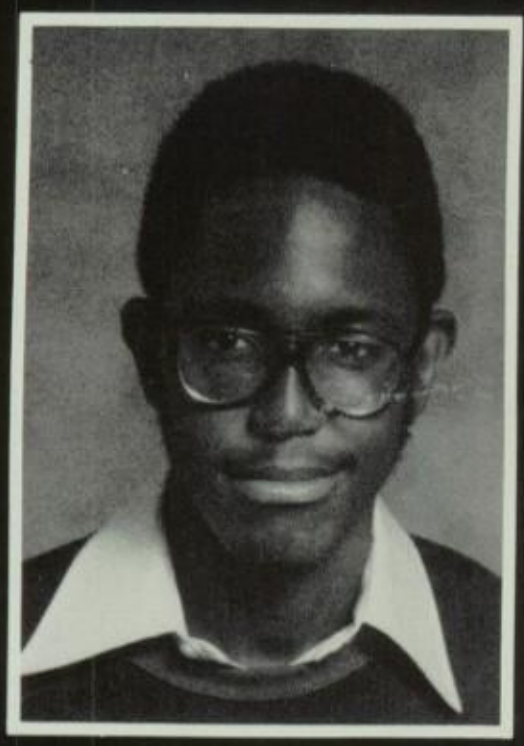
Ivelise Tejeda worked undercover in the great Paper Chase with the Cincinnati Reds chasing through the British Isles searching for rootbeer. She wants to become a secretary so that she can bring her boss his morning chocolate mint. Ivy, born on February 10, 1961, wants to find a 5'5" lasagna who will drive her Fiat X 1/9 to green California.

Jairo Daniel Ayala and Mr. Pibb are both searching for a Stairway to Heaven. If they don't find one they will drive their Lambourghini Countach to Chile to buy pink bubble gum. When he's out on the California surf he likes to get on the Groove Tube and teach Yamato how to work on wine red cars and play soccer.

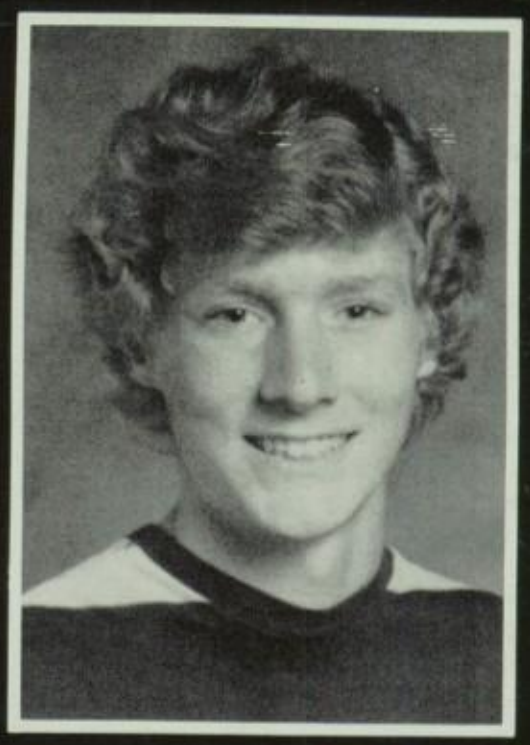
Water skiing and snow skiing are just what my doctor ordered, says Janet Lee Hughes. Dr. Pepper also included in her physical therapy, eating cold pizza in a black T-top Camaro. Jan, born December 2, 1961, is hoping to find a 5'4" butter rum El Gato Gordo at Lake Powell, to take part in PE for her.

Janine Jacobson says to the Los Angeles Dodgers, "I like you just the way you are." Saturday Night Live for Janine is sleeping in her Porsche 911 SC. Some day as a children's dentist Janine wants to get into photography of burgundy cherries. She loves snow skiing in Valley Forge fudge and eating Japanese food.

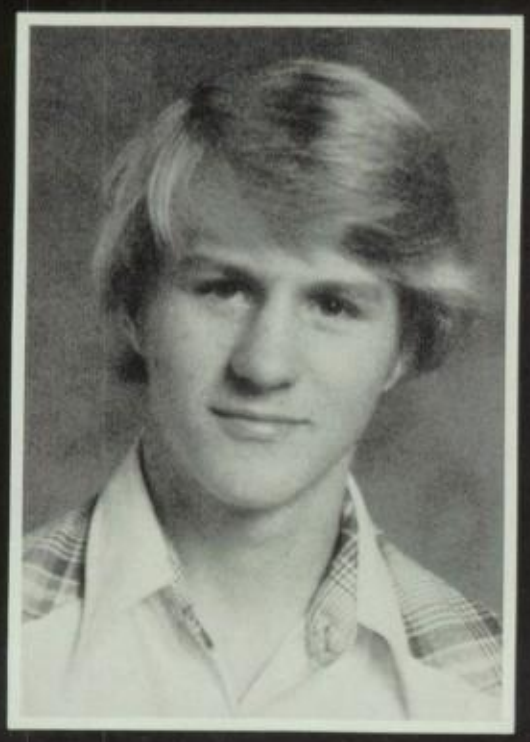
Jo Ann Torres, born November 3, is Ready to Take a Chance Again with those Los Angeles Dodgers. She would like any kind of pet, perhaps a Lotus, that could be a physician for Lucan, her 4'11" Middle-East dish. As a stamp and coin collector, Jo Ann enjoys visiting Andersen's Pea Soup to sample many types of volleyball.



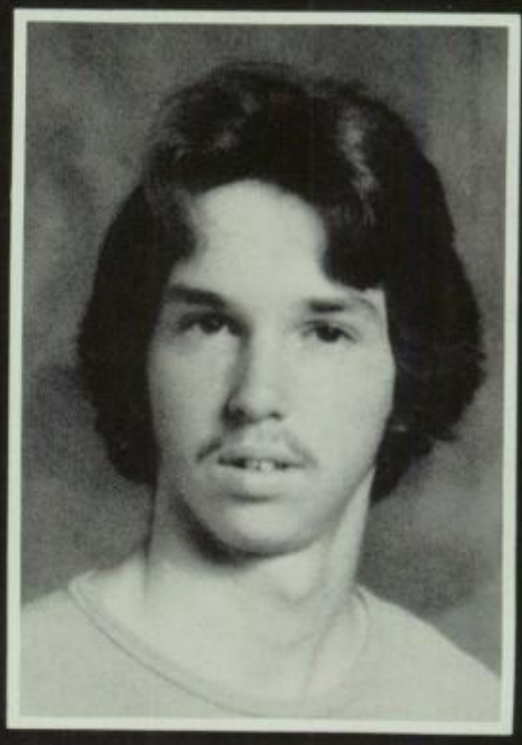
Joel Kevin Wilson enjoys reading classical literature on the Montreal Canadiens. Joel shares Hogan's Heroes and often buys them cokes and chocolate which he hopes will eventually make him an applied physicist who builds models. As a research engineer Joel plans to study into the early church history of star wars at Chi Li's restaurant.



John Robert Cyr is not sure if they allow limousines in Switzerland but he would like to take 7-up and see. John Bob has a 6'4" collection of Walt Disney materials that could play baseball with the best of cooks and make a Wonderful World of Disney from the Battle Hymn of the Rupublic.

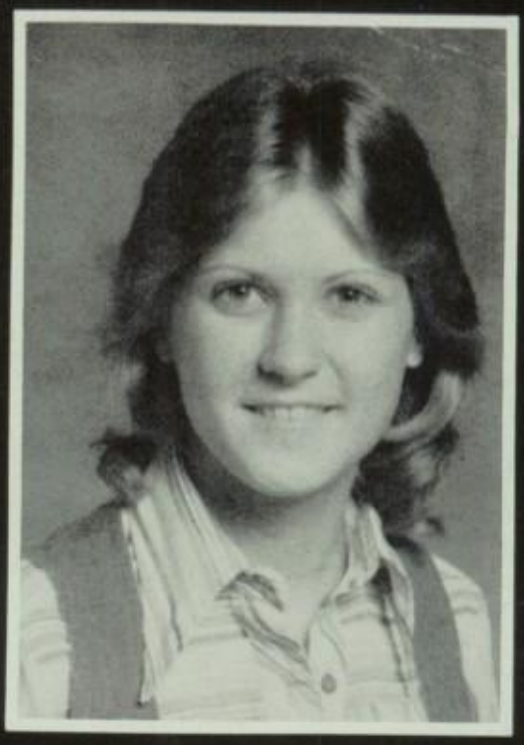


John Albert Shultz loves to ride along in his Trans-Am on the Star Trek to Piccadellies for junk. The way the Dodgers play baseball makes John think he'd better stick to becoming a male nurse and forget trying to find time for hobbies. He loves Hawaii 50 so he plans to move off the mainland to Canada.



Josias Lional Robinson III would enjoy seeing the blasting and demolition of the Dallas Cowboys. Josias would drive his Trans*Am while working for the U.S. Forestry service, but he's afraid the Dust in the Wind would dim its space blue finish. He plans to impress the Burger King with his marksmanship by splitting a black walnut.

Karen Lyn Wilhite, born August 9, 1961, loves to cook with a Red Onion which she found while driving a Datsun 280Z to Canada to escape from Dr. Pepper. As a nurse she plans to say You Needed Me to her Dallas Cowboys when she lets The Wizard of Oz bring them Jamoca Almond Fudge.



Kathi Lou Parfitt is Ready to Take a Chance Again in her Pantera, Ferrari, Lambourghini or Jaguar along the rocky road to Germany. Hooper, Mork and Mindy are Kathi's favorite waiters at Dos Gringos where she goes to study oil painting. Someday she wants to become a homemaker so she can have more time to watch the Dodgers play baseball.

Dear Diary,

Bon Voyage indeed! It was no happy voyage for me, in fact, it was the most embarrassing evening of my life. When I embarked on this SA Cruiser I had no idea what lay in store for me. After being showered with confetti, I was informed I was to be a participant in the "Nearly Wed Game". As I opened my mouth to protest, a party horn was into it. I couldn't enjoy the WonTons I was too busy contemplating a or as an alternative, running a he Magician who performe , but unfortunately 's disappearing act volunteered

Dear Matthew,
It has been really great having you as our student teacher. You are really great, your advertisement was really Spiritual! Phenomena Pass with much haasle. I know you enjoy you. Good luck in your Experience, Hope you; your wife have a great summer. maybe I'll see you around. Stay Sweet and 1st Cool. Remember to always Put Christ in everything you do.

Love,

You've been a good edition to the class are you sure you won't be a teacher? Good luck and hope to see

Dear Matt

You have potential to be an excellent teacher and I hope we helped you a little. Thank you for the illustrations etc. you've given to us.

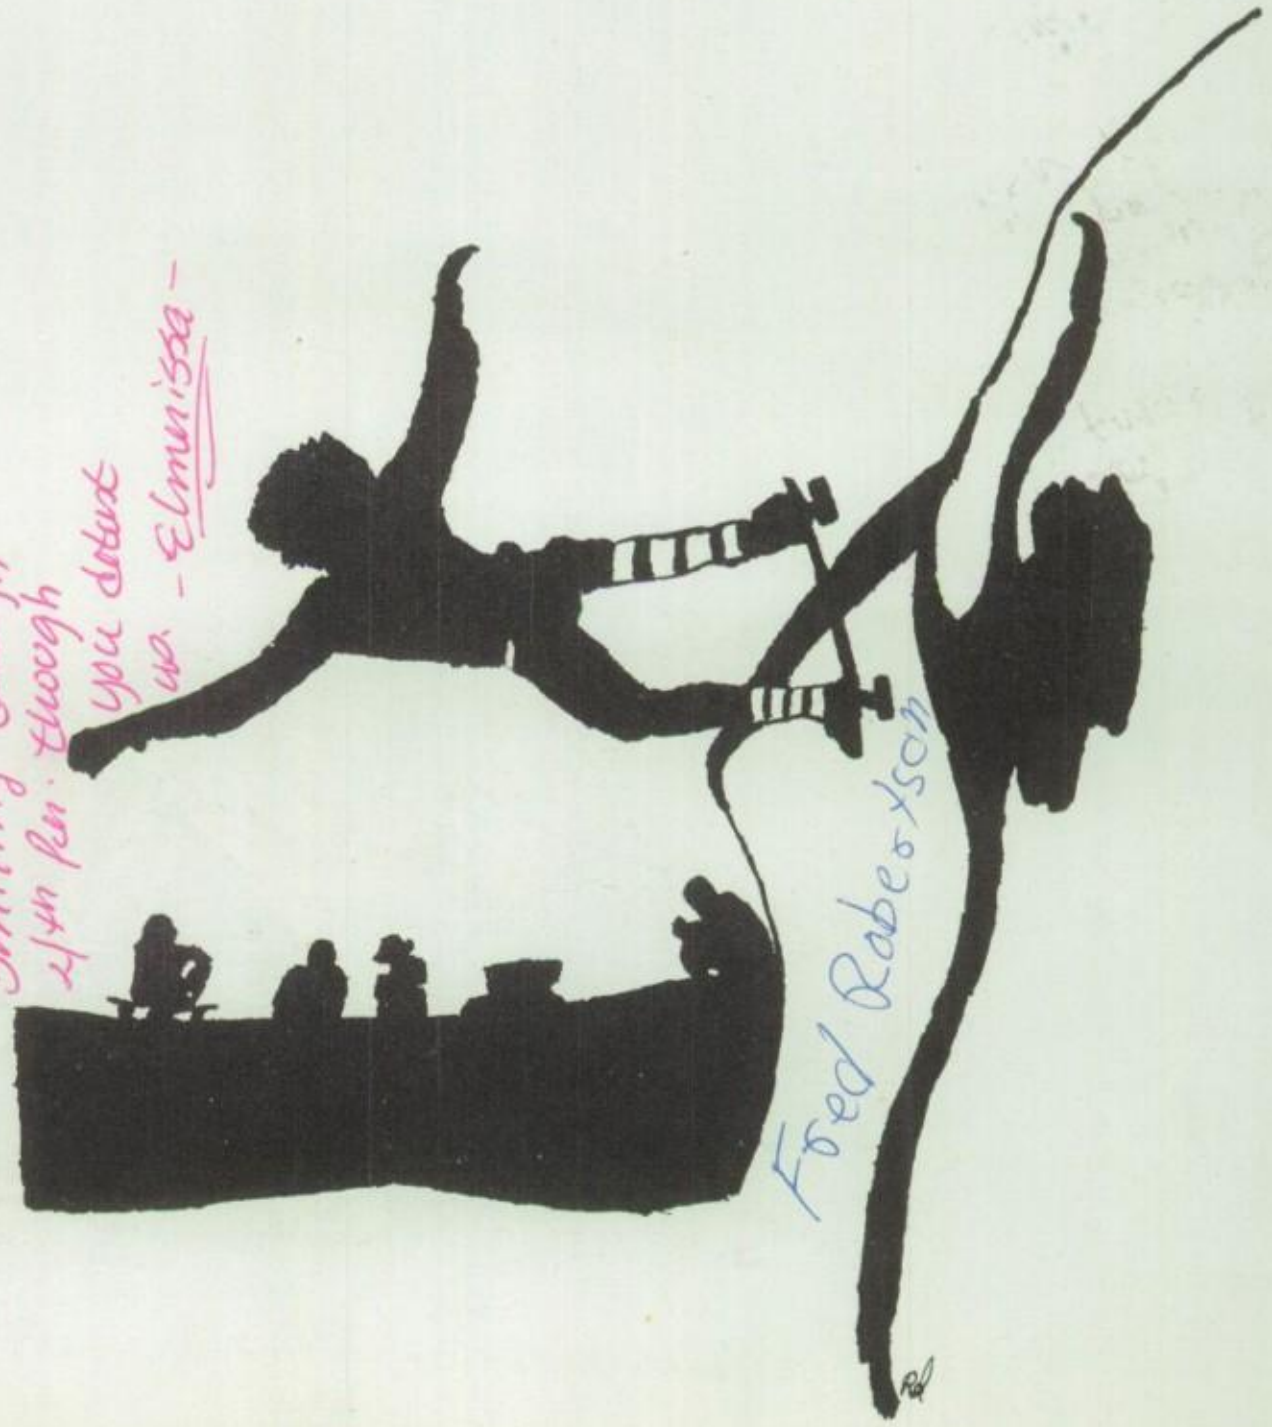
Love always

Rachel Saunders

Hey Mat,

I have had a lot of fun giving you a hard time. don't take it personal deep down I guess I like you (sort of) Ha Ha

Brent Rambo



Hey Cruzeen
Have a good summer with

Dear Matthew,
I thought of spelling your name wrong but decided that I would not return the insult. Aren't I nice. I have had a great time with you in Spiritual Phenomena! You are such a terrific person to tease. I think you are going to be a really good teacher because of your understanding kids so well. Your wife is very lucky to have such a neat husband. We'll have to get a big group together again sometime soon and go to Bobby McGhee's again to pork out. I am really glad you student taught in Spirit. Then. so I could get well acquainted with you. I'm sure you'll make a great Associate Pastor in Downey. I promise to come out and listen to you preach sometime (after I learn how to drive. Of course that may take a year or two. Maybe I'll get Dede to drive us out there.) I hope you enjoy your house out in Downey. Tell Pierre that he's cute, but he's too tall for me. Please keep in touch wherever you go.

Lots of love!
Your friend
Leanne

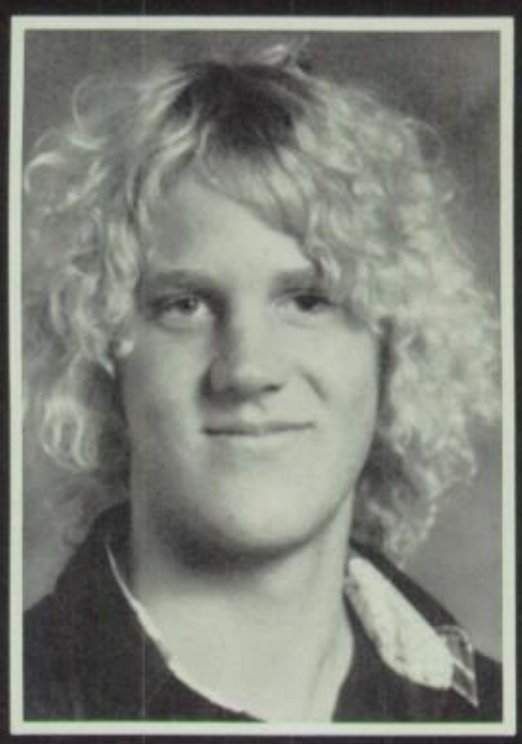
P.S. Sorry it is so smudgy. That is one of the joys of being left-handed.

Dear Matthew-
Its been great having you help in our bible class. What other class got a custom-made ventril-oquist equipped with his very own dummy? Nowhere but in 4th period Spiritual Then. Have a good summer and if you are a good little boy you might even be a teacher someday.

Love,
Shelly

Matt:
I'm glad you came to student teach this year. Remember your dummy at LBC? I've done quite a bit of teaching & Spiritual Plan. & I'm glad you've been helping in the Future. Good Job for the rest of Jesus,
Katy Torres

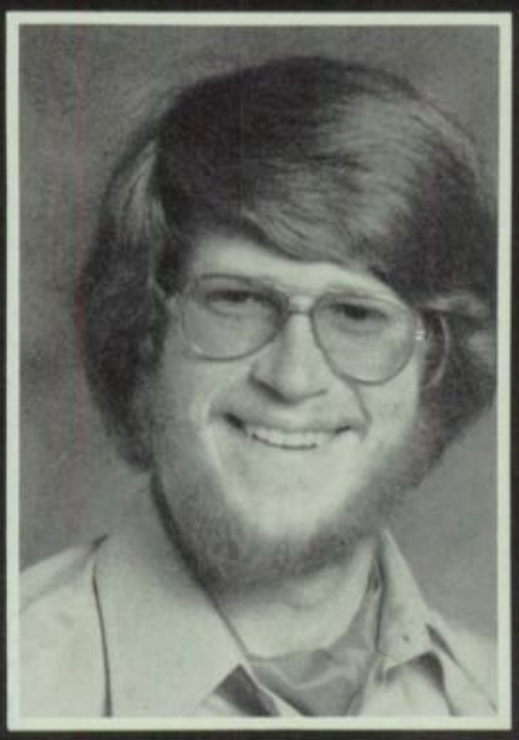
Kathleen Louise Wickerd says, "I Love Lucy and Mork and Mindy." She would like to Skip skiing and get into some serious eating, laughing, talking, and singing. Kathy plans to marry rich, probably Dr. Pepper, or be a nurse on the Ruben E. Lee. She won't take anything but a Slow Ride to the beach in her red Arrow.



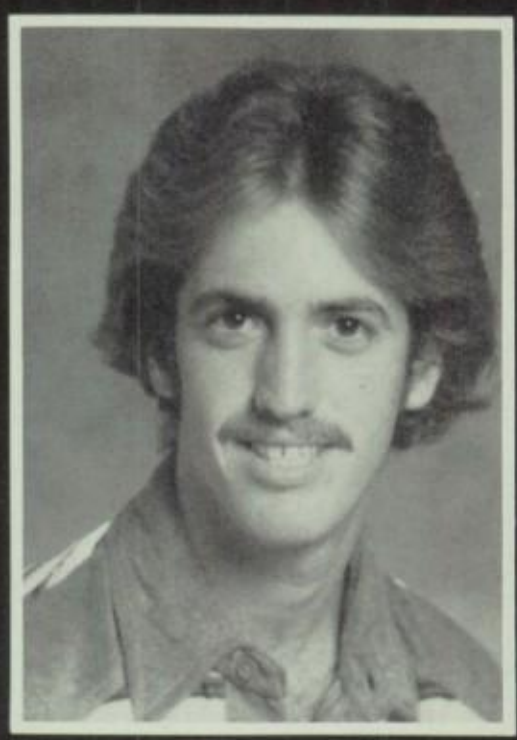
Keith Alan Baker, born December 11, 1960, is Dazed and Confused when he thinks about becoming a general contractor. He has no trouble getting In and Out of his 6'2" spotted Datsun pick-up. Anytime of the week you can find Keith boogie boarding, racing motocross, scuba diving or eating a hamburger.

Kenneth Ray Fox wants a Little House on the Prairie where he can collect snakes, As a working man he plans to supply the Miami Dolphins with A&W rootbeer to improve their defensive abilities. He likes to see those black cars with wild cherries on top behind him as he cruises down the ski slopes in his truck.

Mork and Mindy Can't Get Enough of Kolee Knoefler eating wild cherries on his pizzas and other Italian specialties from the local Wendy's. Kolee would like to build a model of a Datsun 280Z and see if the entire Minnesota Viking's team would fit inside it. He and his pharmacist, Dr. Pepper, are prescribing choco-mint to all Foul Play victims.



Owen Kristian Widmer, as a radio broadcaster, would like to advise, "Don't Look Back". Kris likes to find Oriental Gardens anyplace in northern Norway that he visits so he takes the Los Angeles Dodgers, Kings, Lakers, and Rams along so they can sample Aspen's potatoes prepared any way in the assorted fruit colored Audi 500's.



John Lauren Speyer, born September 6, 1960, is still seeking A Stairway to Heaven. He doesn't want to be like Dr. Pepper so he plans to become a carpenter and build himself a Lotus to drive home every night. Lauren hopes that Dallas will appreciate his experience at waterskiing and motorcycle riding enough to take him to Trinas.

Leanne Michelle Slusarenko would like Two Tickets to Paradise for her and her Russian registered nurse. If she chances taking a Shot In the Dark, she'd probably break the window of her Mercedes 450 SL. Slus thinks that when the Dodgers put #7-up to bat, the wild cherry will sail clear to Switzerland's badminton courts.

Karen Leslie Honganon, born October 28, 1961, wants Les to Wait a Little While to Welcome What You're After which is a Peanut butter and chocolate volkswagen. An African Queen is cooking up an exciting new one-day diet for Les that will involve eating wintergreen and pepsi lite along with lots of involvement in Mexican baseball.

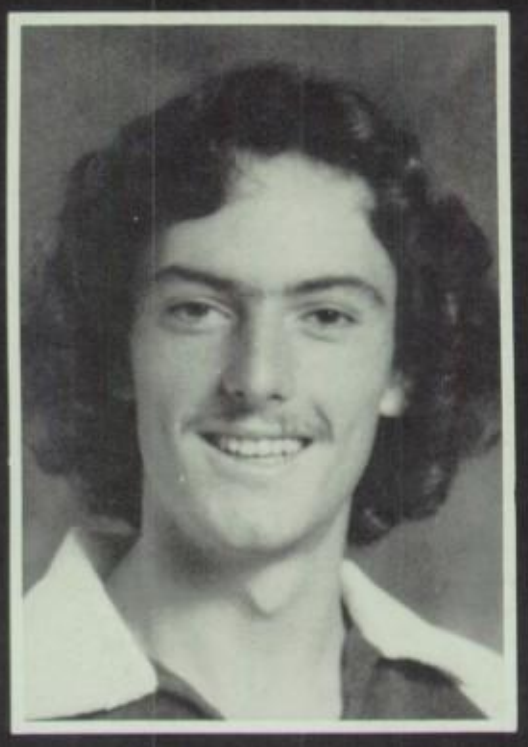
As a public relations specialist, Leslie Lorraine Johanson plans to advise the Dallas Cowboys to use Lessor Soap and more Foul Play. Too Much Heaven for Leslie is eating practically anything that tastes good while dieting and sleeping. Walley Forge Fudge from Australia is about the best thing she can eat in the back seat of her BMW while she watches TV.

"You Light Up My Life Dallas Cowboys," says Lily Eliazbeth Brinckhaus. Someday Lolita, born January 16, 1961, wants to become a smiling dentist so she can start people laughing at her singing, sewing, swimming, and piano playing. Volleyball and football give her an appetite for all kinds of food, so she hops in her Trans Am to go get it.

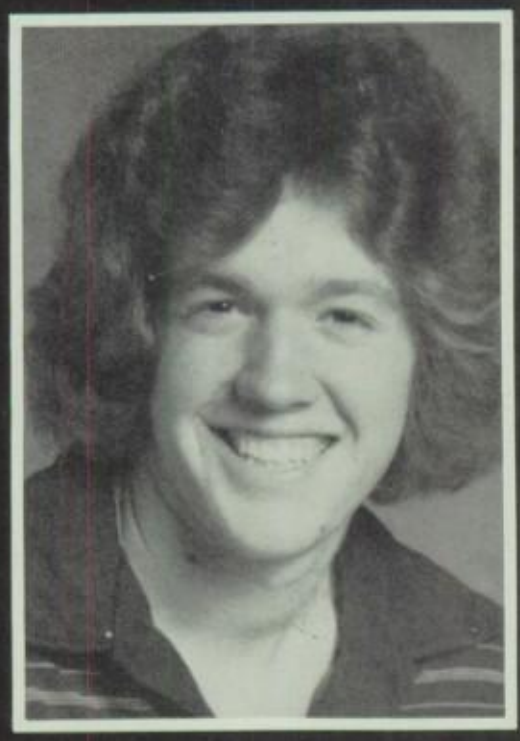
Linda Lee Jordan, born October 7, 1960, would like to draw her own horror show in which she will make an orange crush Europe; 5'3" tall Mexican and Italian medical secretaries have stimulated her interest in the Los Angeles Dodgers and given her a ravenous hunger for blue peppermint and mint n' chip.

For Lori Rene Wilson, the Greatest Love of All is a 5'7" Minnesota Viking with a blue Corvette. Lori is planning to go to Spain with her lawyer, St. Joseph, to be a contestant in the Paper Chase. If she doesn't succeed in winning that race, she will have to be content with throwing basketballs through the middles of wild cherry lifesavers.

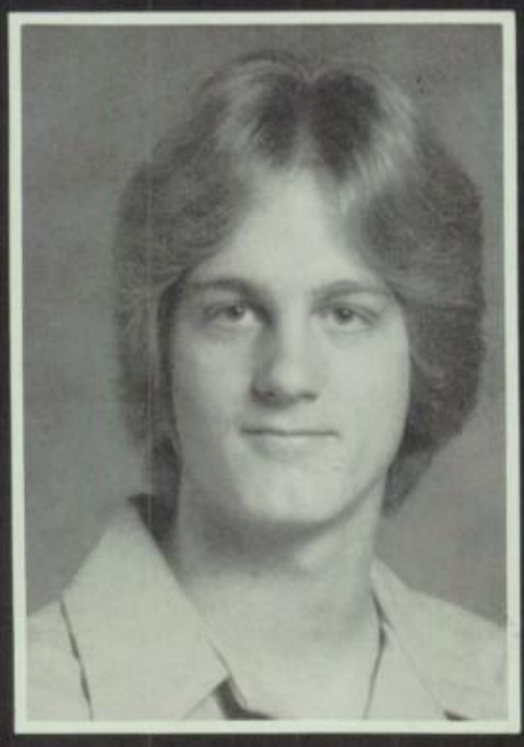
Mariann Demchuk likes a new car that never breaks down, so she runs a Spaghetti Factory in Salt Lake City. Born August 3, 1961, Mariann wants to become a school teacher who can Put on a Happy Face every time she goes to sleep. Milk makes lasagna and donuts a lot easier for her to swallow while she watches Mork and Mindy.



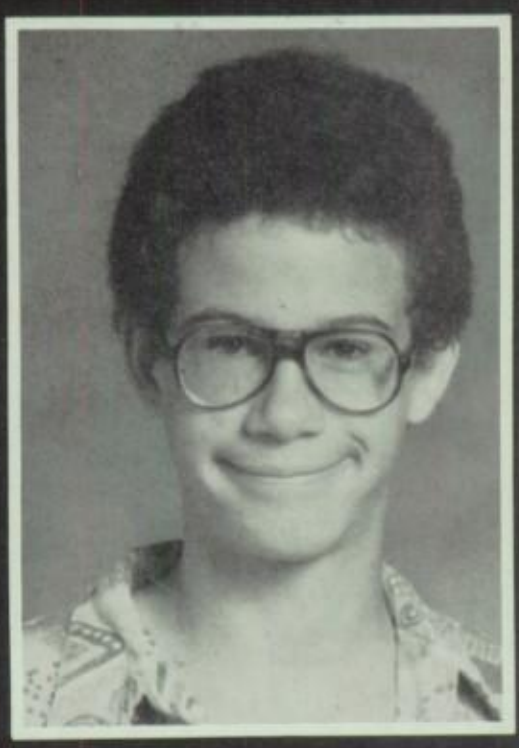
Competitive swimming turns Mark Christopher Tracey into a Rusty Pelican so he has to hit the beach, preferably one somewhere in the Carribean, to do some surfing and tanning. Kasmir, Mark's 6'2" dentist, makes him think of all sorts of blue and brown cars, especially Porsche Targas.



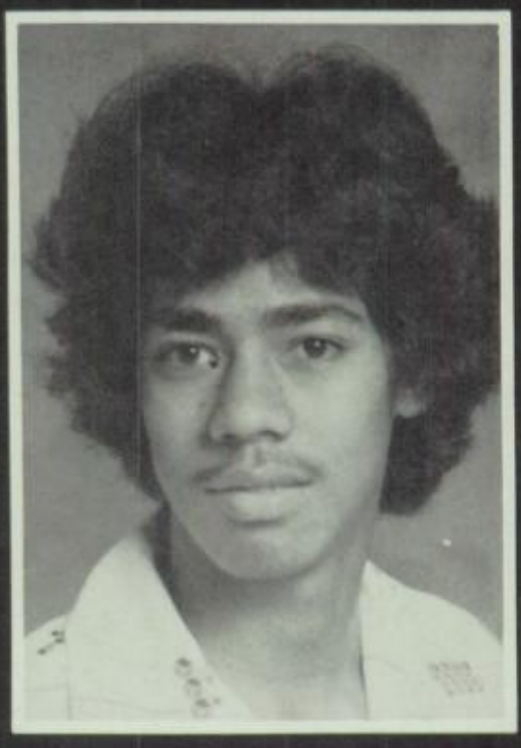
Martin Eugene Miller believes that Ernie Jr.'s quarterback crunch would hit USC hard, especially if Dr. Pepper were playing. Marty took a Gallows Pole and decided Mork and Mindy definitely needed to be shot, but first they deserved some lemon meringue pie. A Jaguar is the only thing Marty will drive to football games.



Mike A. Drake, born August 9, 1960, can Dream On about going and visiting Hawaii and Europe. As a beach and ski bum he will probably never be able to afford the Porsche 911 Turbo Carrera he wants, but he might be able to see a Kentucky Fried Movie, eat pizza, butter pecans, and coke while he watches his Soap.

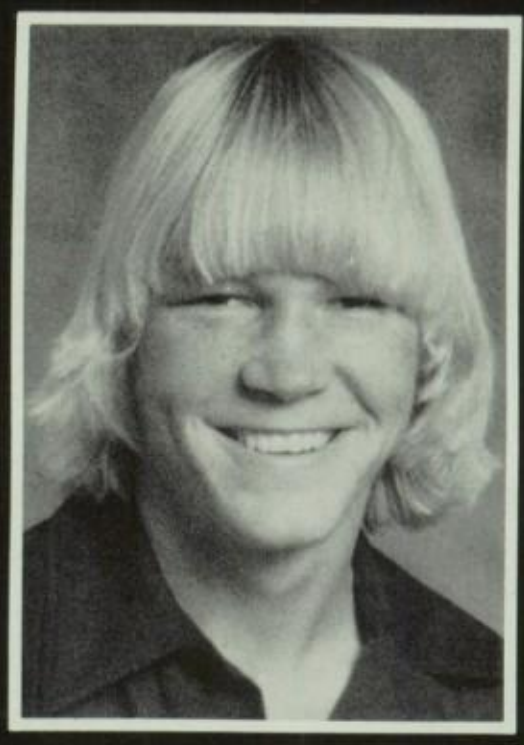


Michael Glenn McIntosh would like to visit Miami to get some red Soap for his pumpkin pie. Oh What a Night it was at the Rams game, basketball was never better. Mike likes to collect rocks, stamps, and shells in his Camaro while he drives to Camelot to get rootbeer, butterscotch, and home made strawberries.



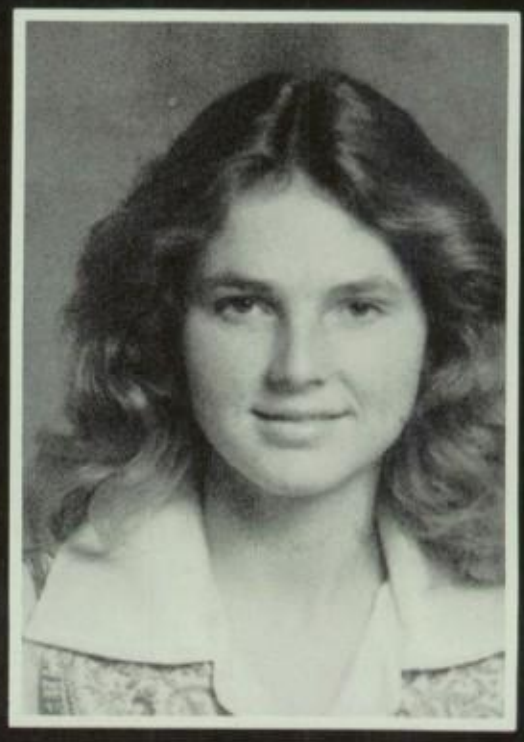
Talamonu Paea, born April 17, 1961, would like My Life to include football and soccer. Carls Jr.'s is the only place in town to go and get yams and steaks. A trip to Hawaii might reveal where green grapes grow, but Mike would rather go places in his Corvette so he just drives to the UCLA football games.

Nancy Gail Davidson likes playing The Song of Norway on her piano, but the mountain dew has affected its tuning so she may have to go back to guitar. Bing's ping pong tournament is so much like a Chinese badminton contest that Nancy always drives her blue Firebird to England to see the Los Angeles Dodgers eat peppermint instead.

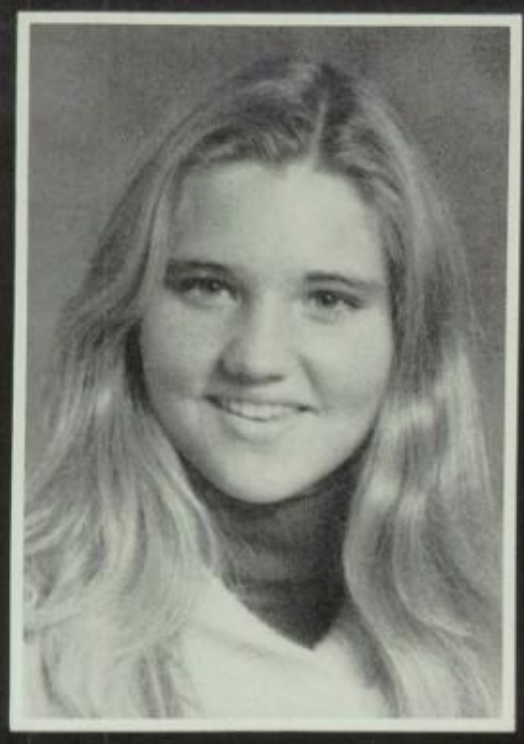


Niels Tobias Reinhold is on his way to Hawaii because his physician, Dr. Pepper, recommended surfing and swimming there. Niels wants to take his blonde hash brown Capri to the Red Onion to hopefully see the Rams' quarterback crunch the Trojans into Mexican M*A*S*H. If they need some help, Niels is willing to volunteer his hobiecat.

Norma Skinner, born January 6, 1962 loves to grow Roots to use when making rootbeer. When Norma finally gets the chance to visit Spain she wants to spend her time talking with La Comedia on the telephone. She also believes that the UCLA basketball team would thrive on macaroni and cheese if they would just cut out the cherries.



Pamela Shepherd is hoping that USC is Ready to Take a Chance Again and start playing racquetball. Not getting enough sleep to "Shep" is a fudge brownie, but she goes wild cherry at the thought of being a millionnaire with a Mexican MG Midget. On nights when a Star Is Born, Pam goes to El Gato Gordo with Dr. Pepper to collect spoons.

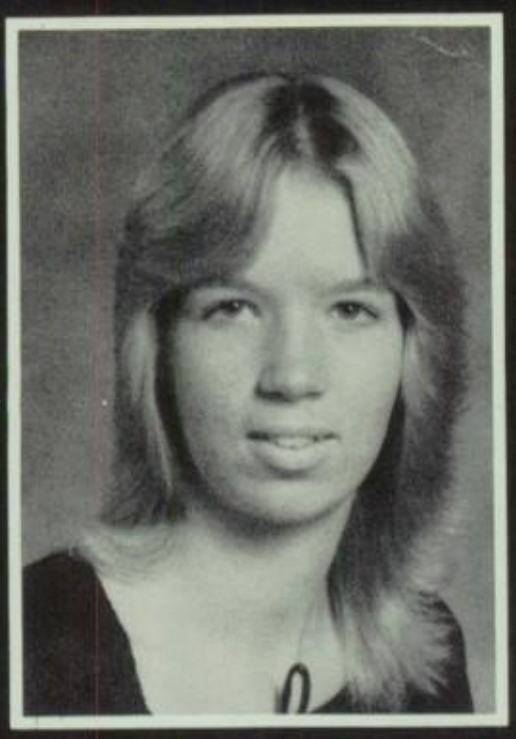


Patrice Annette Stephenson hopes to build a Bridge Over Troubled Waters because her convertible Baja Bug doesn't like swimming in butter rum as much as she does. When she does get to The Other Side of The Mountain, Tree plans to convince the Angels to join her at Bangkok McDonalds to indulge in physical therapy with a side order of peach.

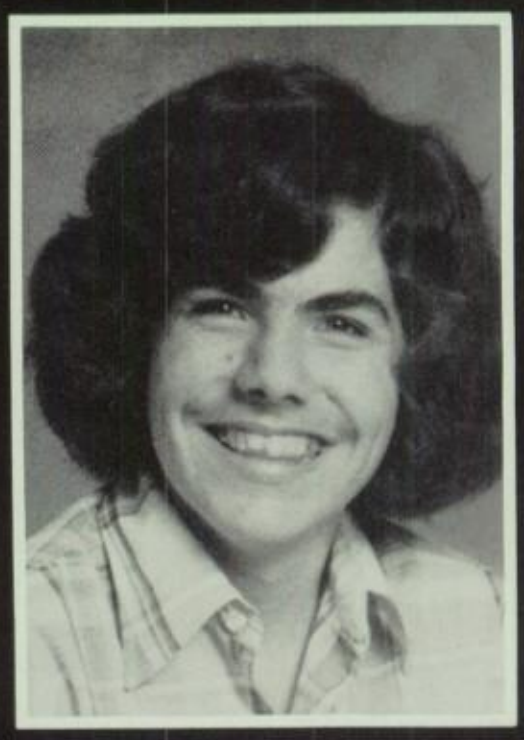
Ramona Villegas, born June 15, 1961, doesn't have to go to Aspen to play softball, but she thinks you ought to go at least as far as South America. It she drives her baby blue Toyota she can always stop at El Tejanito on the way back and get strawberry, orange, banana, or any other kind of nourishing therapy.

Rebecca Ann Saunders says "Baby, I'm-a want you" as she strolls on board the Love Boat bound for Austria, munching toffee covered peanuts. As editor of the New York Times, Becky can be found spending her lunch break at the Red Onion sampling their pralines n cream. When her tab runs high she pays it off with 5'8" wads of wint-o-green.

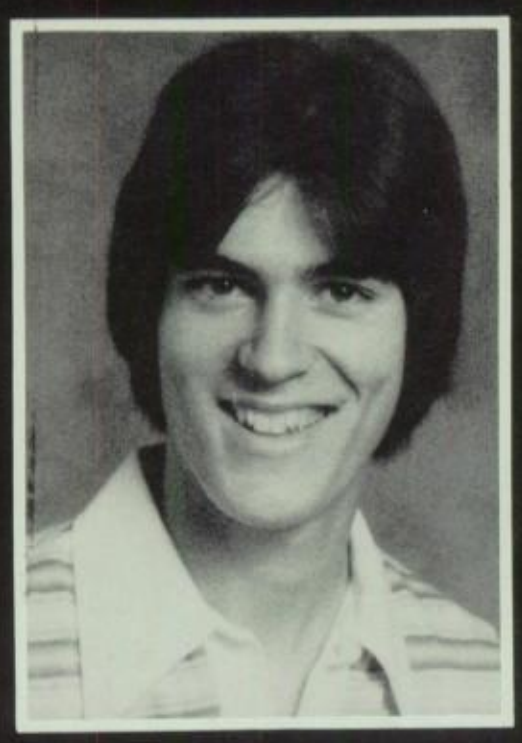
Rebekah Diane Wood, born May 14, 1961, likes Playing to an Audience of One, especially if it's at Farrell's in Riverside. Starsky and Hutch had better head for Texas because Becky is on her way, and she is a real Dodger when it comes to physical education teachers, who drive blue Datsuns or ride horseback.



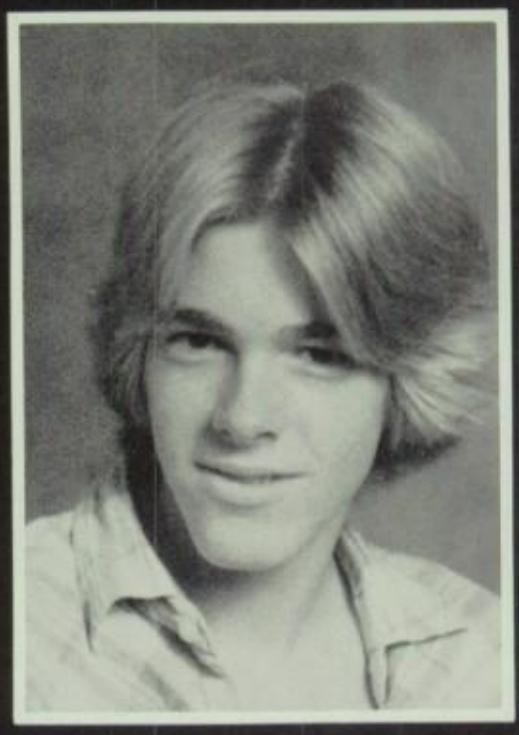
If Rene Joy Uthe can become independently wealthy she plans to travel throughout Europe. The Good-bye Girl took off for Aspen early this morning, and Rene is ready for a day in the Trans Am at Taco Bell. She thinks the Rams are the best at sports as well as at providing more pralines n cream than any other team.



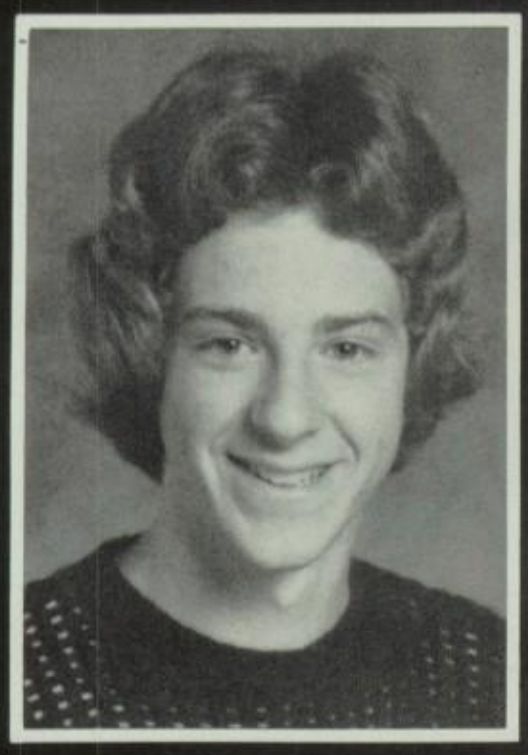
Someday Richard Arthur Guzman, born September 17, 1960, wants to own a chocolate mint so he can make money. The New England Patriots love reds and so do Dr. Pepper and Dr. Guzman. Lakeside Pizza produces junk food that only a jeep could digest, so Richard really loves it while he's in the Rockies writing Matthew's song.



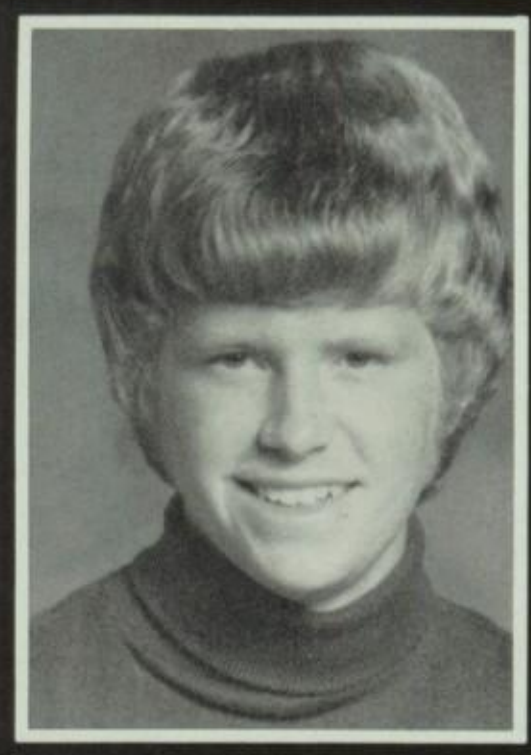
Wesley Richard Spencer will tell you that Jimmy's in Beaumont is the place to go for good deals on Trans Ams. Hiking and skiing usually take Rick down the same Rocky Road, but he doesn't mind as long as it ends in Hawaii and he can get some Mexican food and bubble-up while he watches football games.



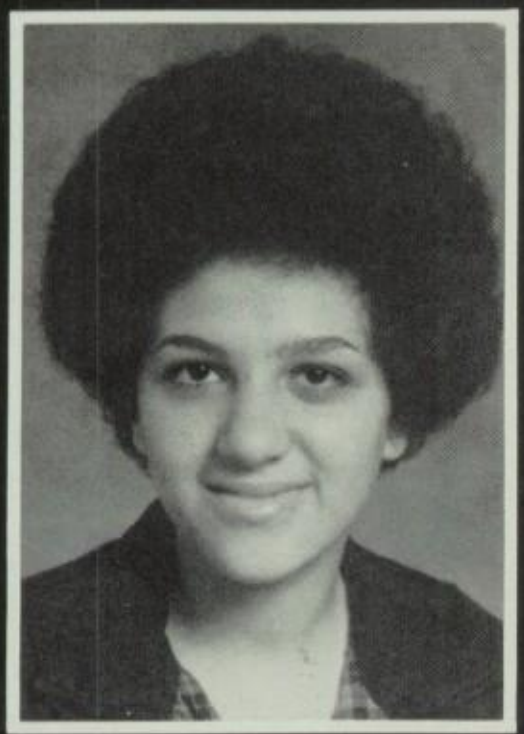
Robert G. Duncan plans to spend his life sleeping at a party so he can become a millionnaire. Saturday Night Live at La Fiesta is driving a Porsche through the motocross course and since Rob is a professional at motocross he always attends. Germany is the place to go for Mexican food Rob contends, so he manages to visit regularly.



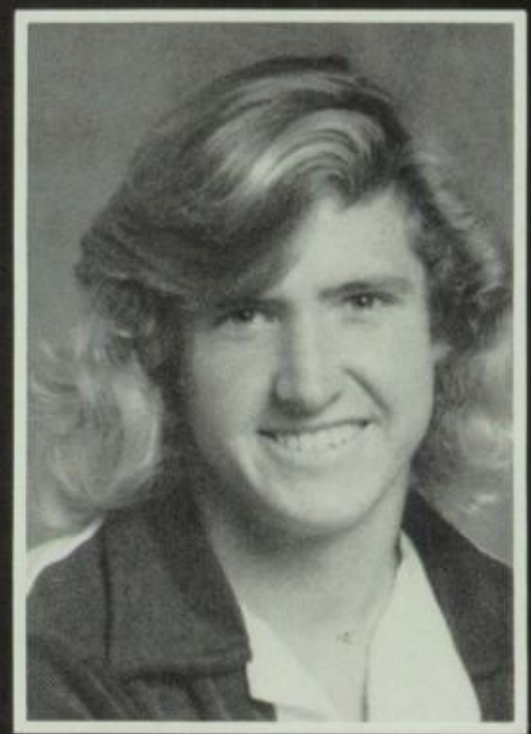
Robert Thomas, born April 14, 1961, is actually a Renegade from the University of Michigan racquetball team. Someday Rob plans to visit a sparsely populated tropical island with his friends so they can ride The Subway where he will teach the girls about sports and eating Mexican food, raspberry marble, and wild cherries.



Back In The Saddle with the Dallas Cowboys, Roger Alan Durham sees nothing but pralines and cream for miles on end. Drawing Monty Python's Flying Circus, especially the cheerleaders, is no problem for him since he's spent so much time studying Hawaii and its architects. Roger wants to start working at the Spaghetti Factory so he can eat pizza.



"Take Me Back to Cairo," begs Safaa Hanna Malaka, born August 8, 1962. She would do anything to become a doctor except claim Egypt. Safaa loves watching the Minnesota Vikings, playing the piano, or collecting stamps, but Paper Chase is better than either so she sits in her Trans Am eating Spaghetti while they play soccer.

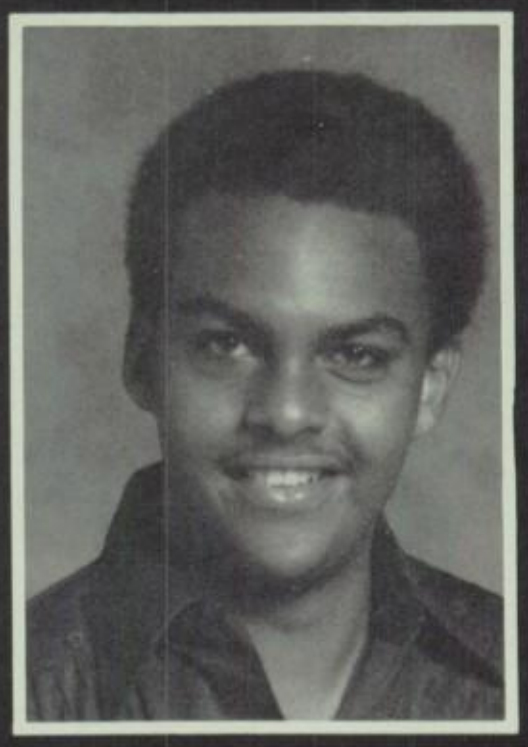


Scott W. Slater would like to go on a trip around the world with Dr. Pepper. "I'm In You, Porsche. Now Start running," says Scott on a cold snowy morning when he wants to be skiing on the football field. Born June 27, 1960, he wants to find a steak willing to become a contractor so he can ride motocross down Oregon Hill.

You can't involve Sheri Lynn Graham in Battlestar Galactica. Wild Fire wouldn't get her to stop talking and playing volleyball, you'd have to take her to the Cask-n-Cleaver in a brown and blue Chevy Vega Hatchback. Tacos and French fries aren't easy to find in Miami Beach, so when Sheri visits she takes Aspen to make up for it.

Look out Hawaii, here comes Sherry Ann Shirley, Always and Forever chasing those Lakers. Born on May 5, 1961, she has always loved watching Bugs Bunny going horse back riding on a Mercedes Benz sports coupe. Sherry feels the social services at the Golden Lantern need improving so she is planning to take them something yellow and bright.

Shirley Anngela Cecchi, born September 26, 1961, can get into a real Family Feud over Taco Bell's burritos. Usually when in Washington D.C., she spends her time driving in her Caprice Classic touring volleyball courts, football fields, and other official places, where she can study the red and blue macrame designs of A&W rootbeer.



The One and Only time Simon Kassaye visited the Pacific Islands near Hawaii, he found that the Aztecs were no longer playing ping pong with lawyers who drink pepsi. Tonight's the Night Simon wants to eat steak and pizza at the Red Coach where they bowl with tangerines, photograph strawberries, and drive Mercedes Benz sports coupes.

Suzanne Porras, born October 17, 1961, takes One Day at a Time when it comes to Pablo Cruise, but for the Los Angeles Rams things always go in leaps and bounds. Tennis and waterskiing won't help her become a registered nurse but Suzy hopes it will improve her chances of finding an Italian or Mexican who can buy her a white BMW.

Zetta Flower Baptist wants to drive the Waltons to Canada or Alaska in a small economy car that runs. Zee would like to get into home ec. today, but she may have to wait until she has had time to do gymnastics, macrame, crocheting, and cooking. Vegetarian orange crush from America and 7-up from Mexico are Zetta's favorites.

THE CLASS OF 1979

Class Colors: Maroon & White
Class Flower: Dark Red & White Roses
Aim: To Take Only The Best
Motto: Earth Is Our Challenge,
Heaven Is Our Goal

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Senior class of 1979, being of sound mind and disposing memory, in spite of the fact that we have spent four years here, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament.
To the Juniors we wish to leave our perfect manners, our excellent grades, our eagerness to always do something of value, the desks we carved our names into, and last but not least, the faculty.
To the Sophomores we leave our everlasting ability to be good sports in winning or losing, and our ability to pass one paper with the right answer on it down the line during a test, (this takes very careful cooperation from all members involved).
To the Freshman class we leave our lockers. Keep them as clean as WE DID.
To the Teachers we leave only the good memories of their brilliant Class of 1979.

I, Betty Edwards, will my excess inches to Nancy Hoggan.
I, Carl Blomquist, will the yearbook to Sheri Damazo.
I, Carlos Williams, will my basketball ability to Mike Miller.
I, Christie Blake, will Mr. White's car keys to Mr. White.
I, Cindy Marti, will my P.E. clothes to Miss Huett so she can lend them to people who constantly "forget" theirs.
I, David De La Vega, will to the faculty & administration, the well construted planter and the air conditioning pads for the mobile units.
I, Demet Stevenson, will my slam dunk to David Lizer.
I, Dena Ruf, will my Nikes to Rick Dortch provided he can fit into them better than I fit into his.
I, Denita Speyer, will my youthful age to Steve McClain since he is getting on in years.
I, Edith Marca, will my brother Joe to anyone willing to take him.
I, Grace Holden, will by black fishlace stockings to Mr. White.
I, Greg Snider, will my insults to the Juniors for their continued use against Mr. McClain.
I, Joel Wilson, will my ability to write creatively to Laurie Wilson.
I, Kathy Wickerd, will my A's in Government to Gayle Shepherd.
I, Lauren Speyer, will my attendance to Mr. Digneo.
I, Leanne Slusarenko, will by ability to procrastinate to Marigold Jabbour.
I, Linda Jordon, will my ability to handle money to Jim Triplett.
I, Lori Wilson, will my ability to tell good jokes to Zelne Zamora.
I, Marty Miller, will my heighth to Nabil Abu-Assal.
I, Patrice Stephson, will a few of my inches to all the freshmen guys.
I, Ramona Villagas, will nothing to the lower classes as I'm taking it all with me.
I, Richard Guzman, will my wild and crazy lifestyle to Elmer Digneo.
I, Rob Duncan, will my thongs to Mr. Lewis.
I, Scott, Slater, will my defensive tackle to Scott Vye.
I, Sheri Graham, will my detention notices to Melanie Call.
I, Talamona Paea, will my ability to get in early (in the morning) to school to Kevin Lolie.

RELIGION DEPARTMENT

How do you study the Bible? Well, it depends on the approach you wish to take. There are many methods you can get from just attending Bible Class.

Dating, Courtship, Marriage, and the Home, as well as Foundations in Morality, shows through Bible study, that sex is not a dirty word. Spiritual Phenomena may get an odd visitation from Delta Mu now and then, but ghosts of departed friends won't visit since the Bible tells us they are lifeless souls waiting for Christ's return. Books of the Bible may help your thinking speed, but more importantly it familiarizes you with Bible events. Talk about strange dreams, if you want to just take Last Day Events. Bible study is to help you keep things in balance, especially in Equilibrium. In Forum, if there is a moral issue for Christians, you can discuss and discover what the Bible has to say.

These are just some of the small ways our Bible classes can lead you to God through the study of His word.

FREEDOM

It was a very hot, sticky day in a quaint, little town in the deep South. It was just a few years before the troubled "Civil Rights" era in our country. My best friend's father was talking with a friend as they walked down the main sidewalk of the town. Concentrating on their discussion they failed to notice an old, wrinkled, black gentleman approaching them from the opposite direction on the same sidewalk. However, the old black man did not fail to see the two white men approach him. When they were about fifteen feet in front of the old man, he slowly stepped off the sidewalk and into the gutter. Bowing his old head, he removed his tattered old cap as they started to pass. My friend's father stopped and turned to the old gentlemen, "Sir, there is plenty of room on this sidewalk for all of us", he commented. "Dats all right boss... Dats all right." That was his only reply as he moved on past them.

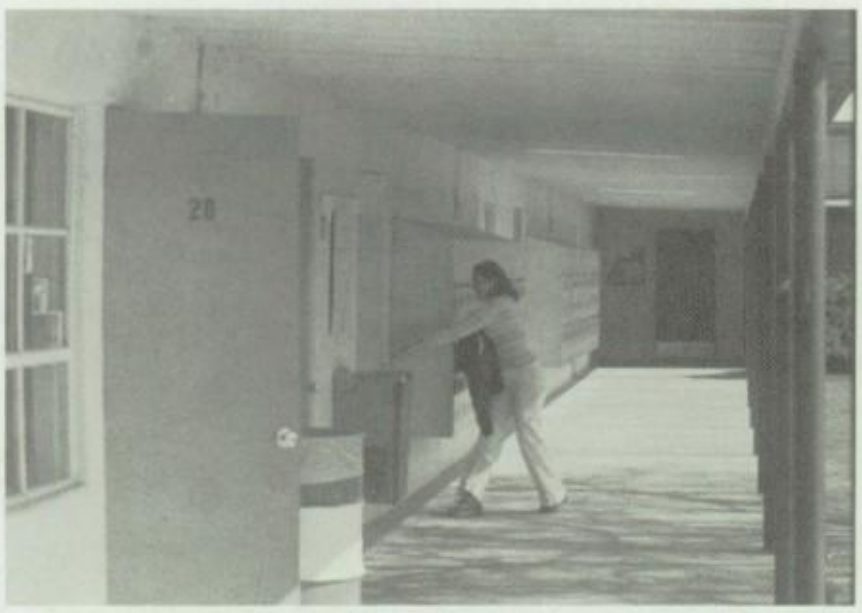
Why? Why, someone asks? He had been freed nearly a hundred years before. A bloody war had been fought and won. Yet, this old black man still acted like a slave. Surely, he knew he had been freed, but in his heart he was still a prisoner to his past.

We all act like that old blackman when it comes down to being free in Jesus Christ. How sad never to taste the true freedom of the victorious Christian life, never sure of our salvation.

We remain prisoners of our past. We act like slaves instead of sons and daughters of the King. We know about the war that was fought for us and won at Calvary, so we could be free from sin, death and our natural selves. But no! We are still prisoners of ourselves.

The saddest part is we choose to remain that way, just like the old man because of an attitude. But, Jesus said, "I tell you the truth... a slave has no permanent place... but if the son sets you free you will be free indeed." (John 8:34-36) Which will it be for you?

Consider the human mind, and its amazing potential. We are the only mammals that have thoughts and can reason.



We can interpret situations, can communicate verbally, and we have the intelligence to improve the quality of our existence.

The mind controls human emotions and reactions. How we feel in a situation and the way and to what degree we express our emotions is controlled by our minds. Our relations with others are created and sustained through our mental capacities.

Consider the human body and its remarkable abilities: resilient from disease, exhaustion and strain; capable of obtaining great strength and flexibility; structurally superior and more generally capable than any other machine.

The body may become highly skilled in many ways; hands, feet, arms, all may be trained to perform with accuracy and precision.

Sports, arts, hobbies, just living-all make vital demands on the body's performance.
